FREMONT HIGH SCHOOL
SUNNYVALE, CALIFORNIA

JUST YESTERDAY...

A dream, a hope, became reality.
May 1923--a small school opened its doors.
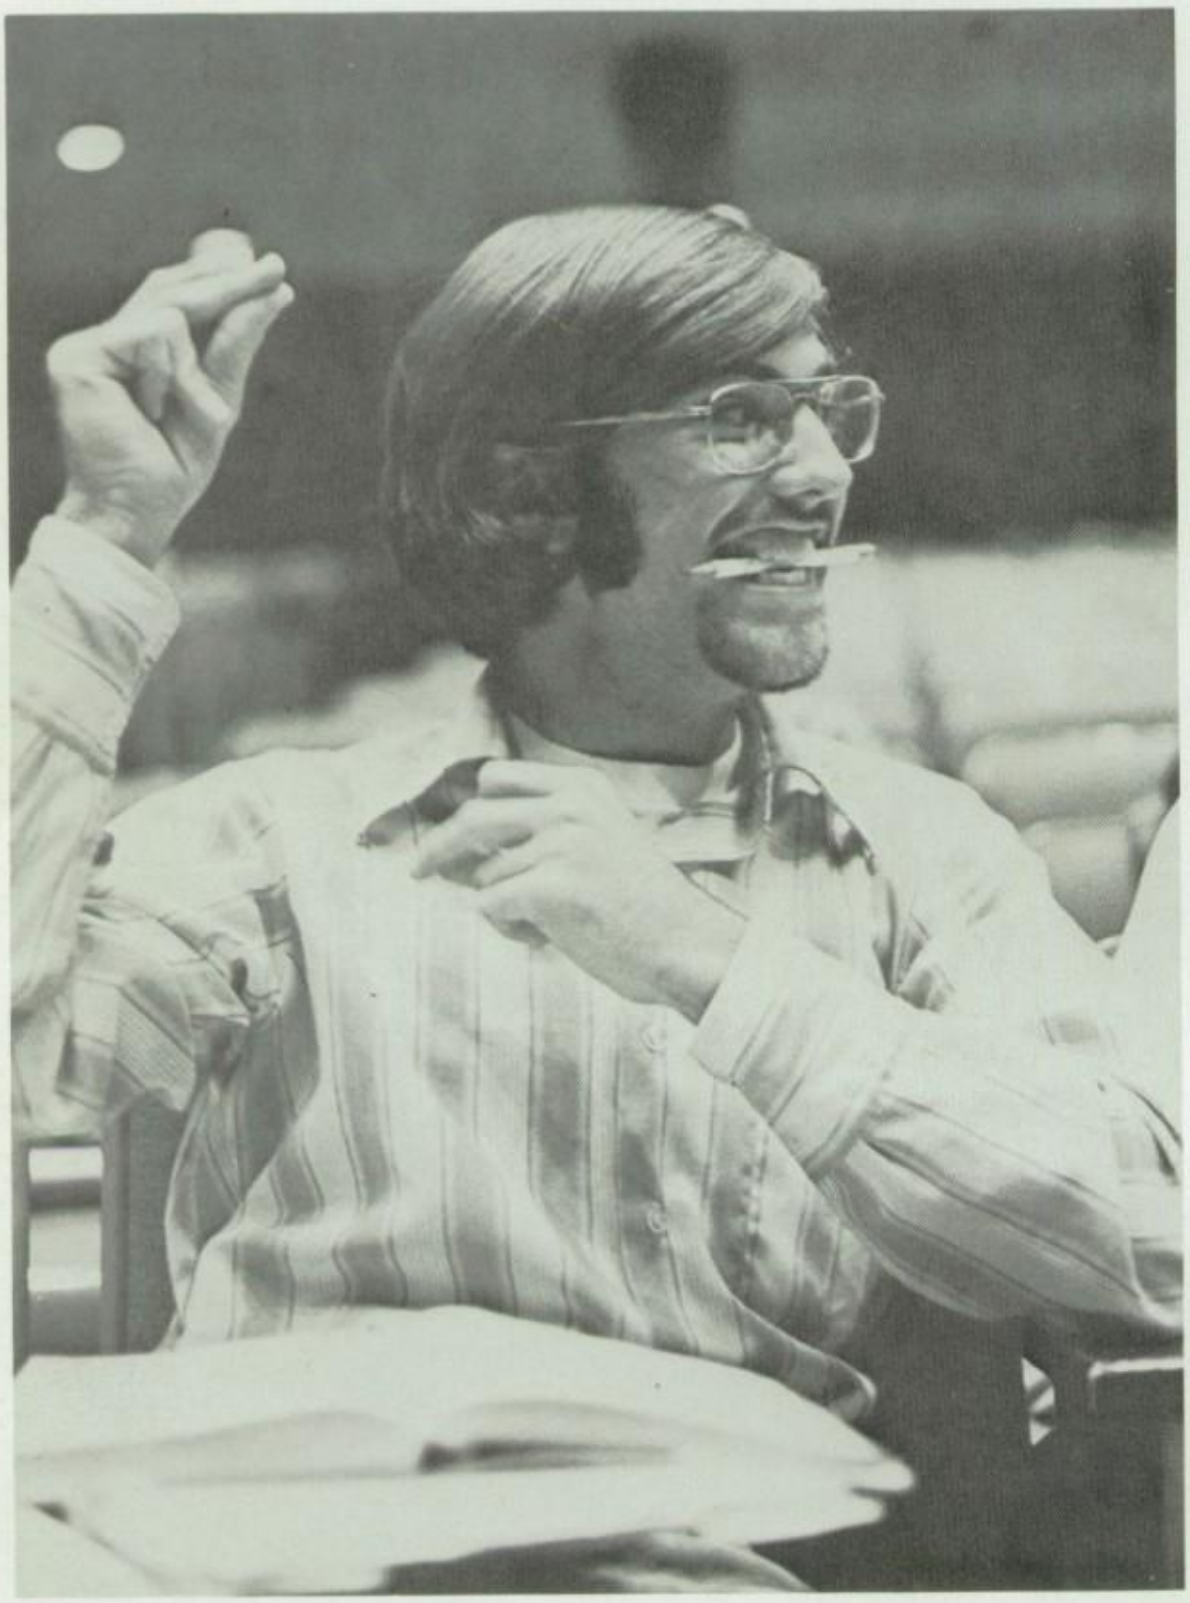
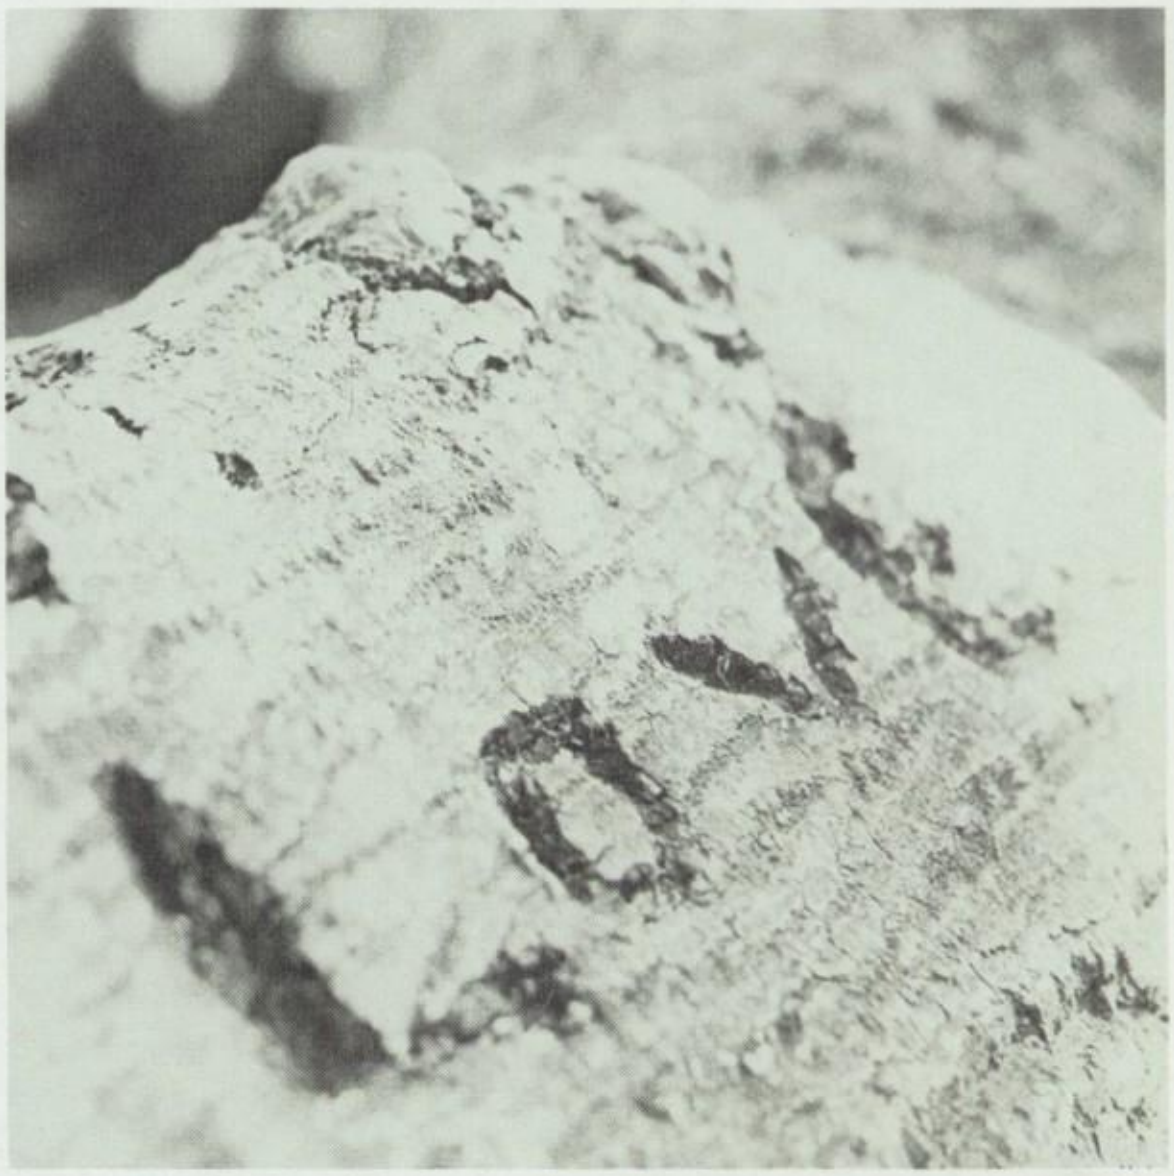
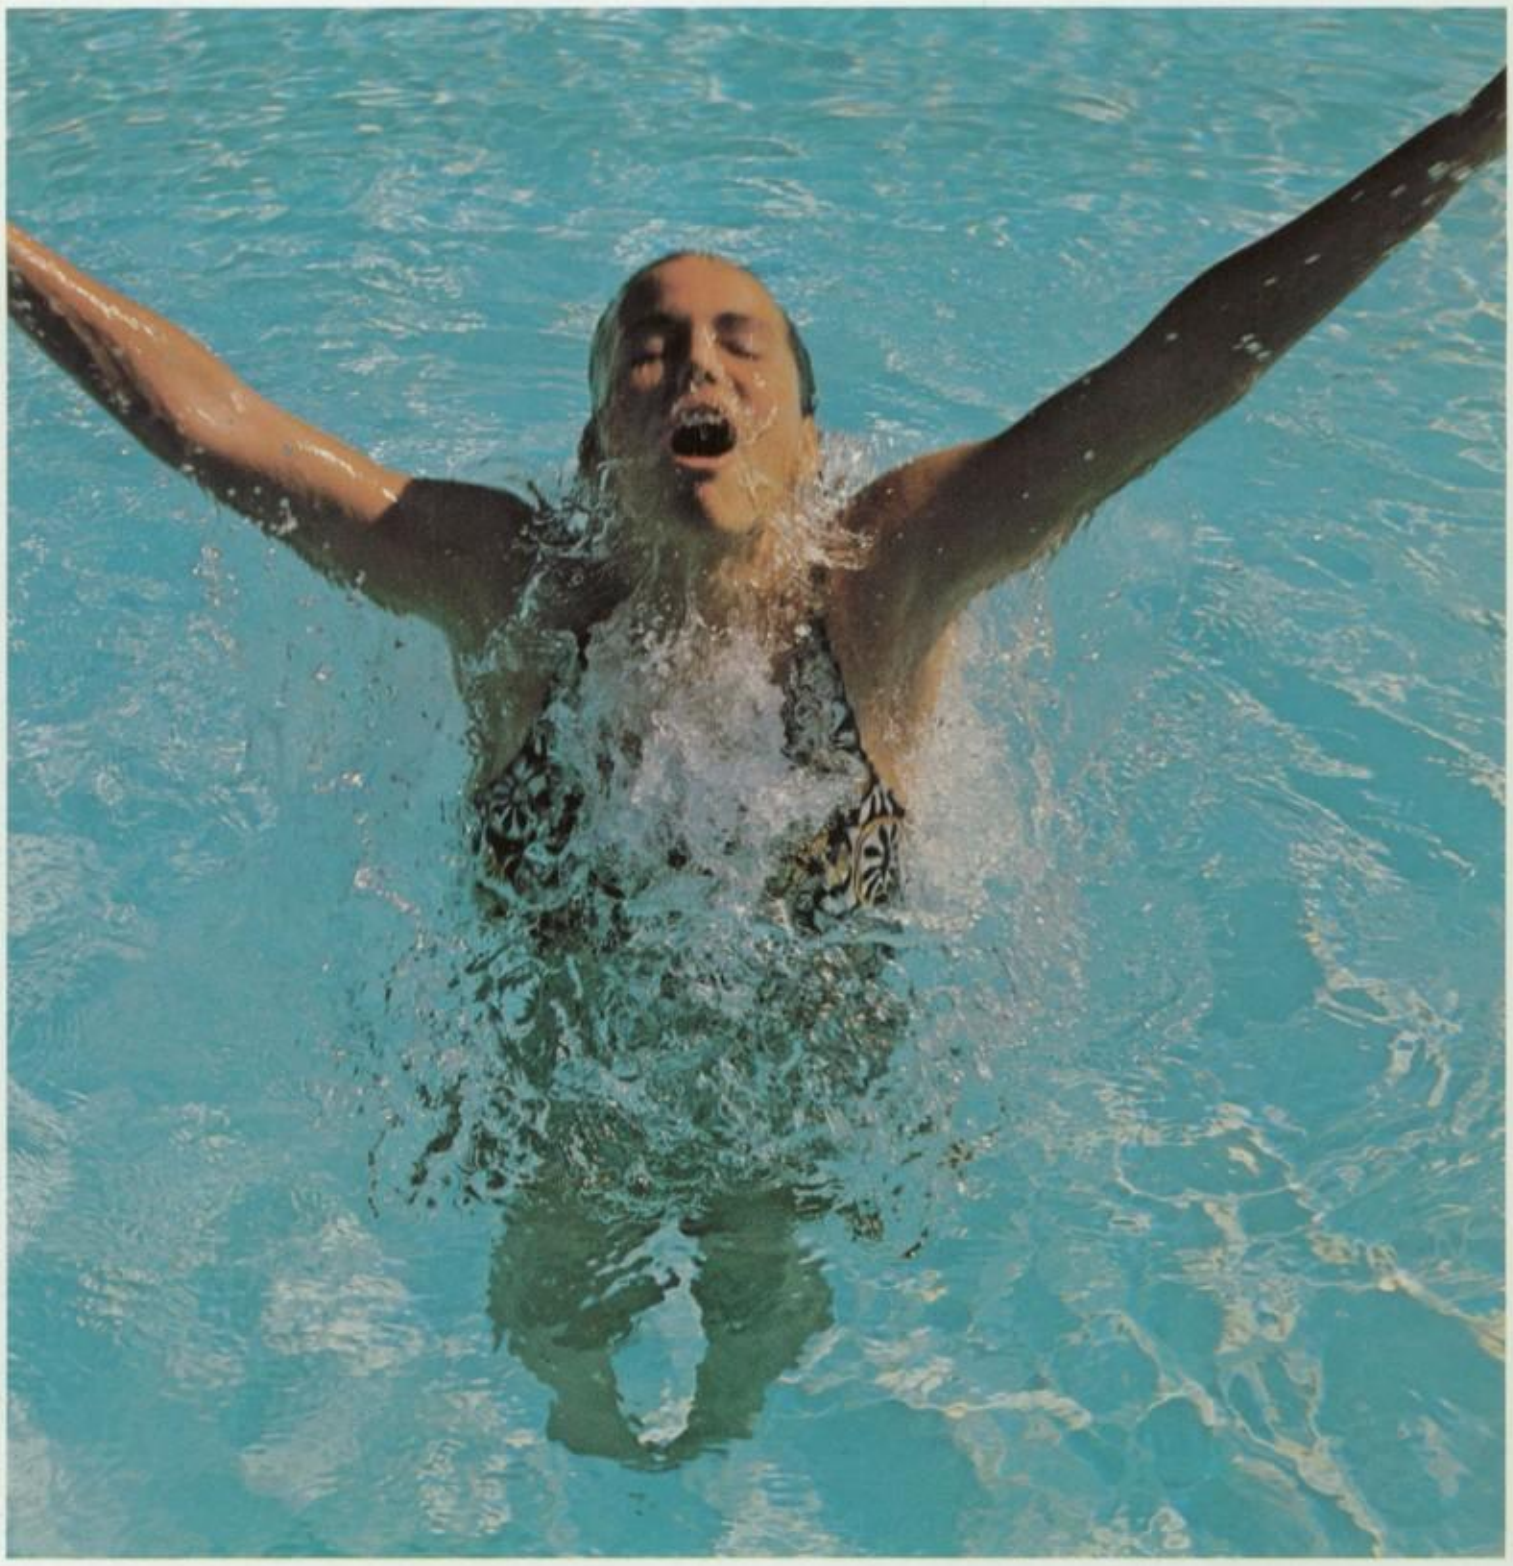
Fifty years slipped by.
Years alive with frustration, idealism,
and a hard look to the future.
Fifty years passed--but not forgotten.
Look carefully--
they're mirrored in today.

Though old crafts still dominate,
the artist's hand knows new media.

Female faces accented with ruby lips
    --or natural highlights.
Topped by veiled hats
    --or polyester wigs.
Framed by tightly set ringlets
    --or windblown hair.
1923 or 1973
    Faces decorated with smiles.







JUST YESTERDAY...

Skirts fell below the knees.
Raccoon coats reflected the rage.
Bobby sox peeked above saddle shoes.
Jack Armstrong battled to another victory.
Revolution '68: the funeral of a dress code.
Short skirts, maxies, faded jeans-- doing their thing.

I WA
FOR U NEAREST

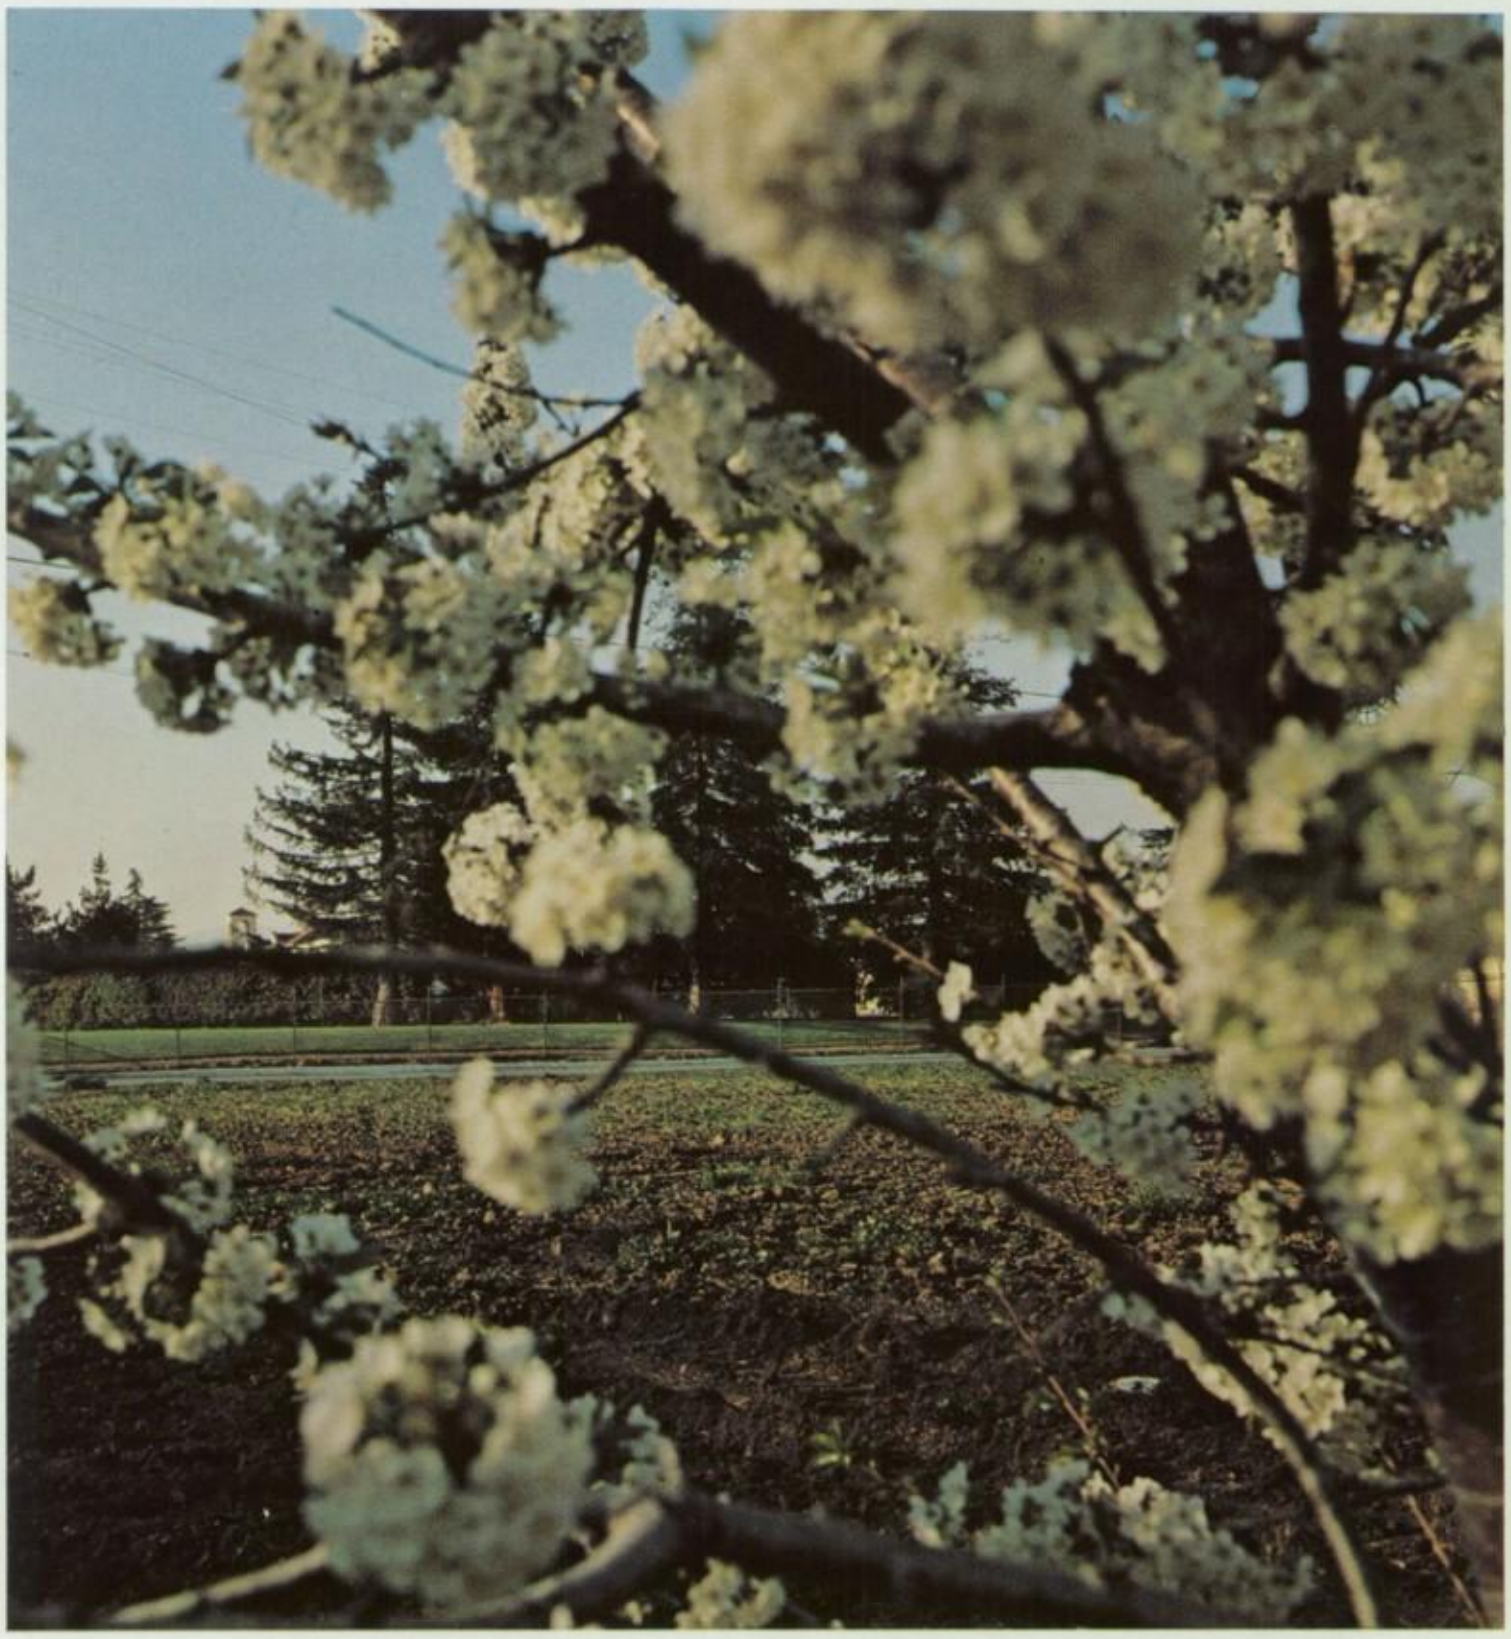
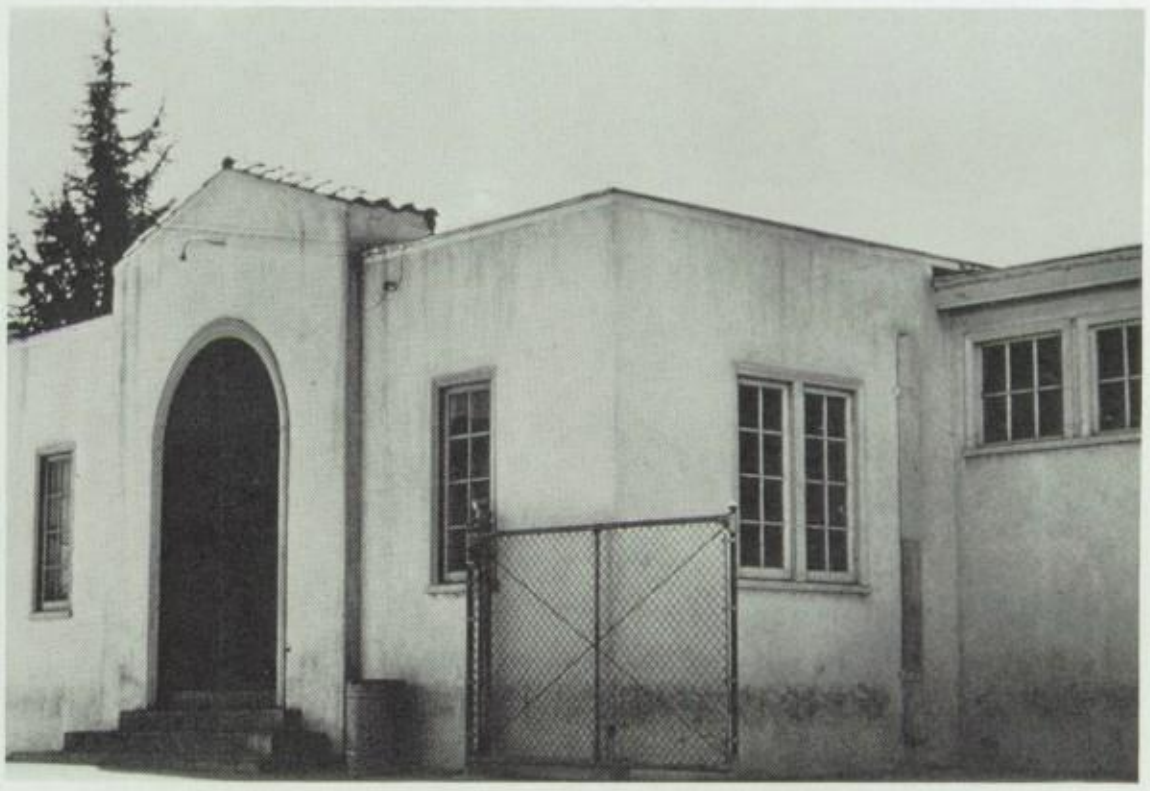
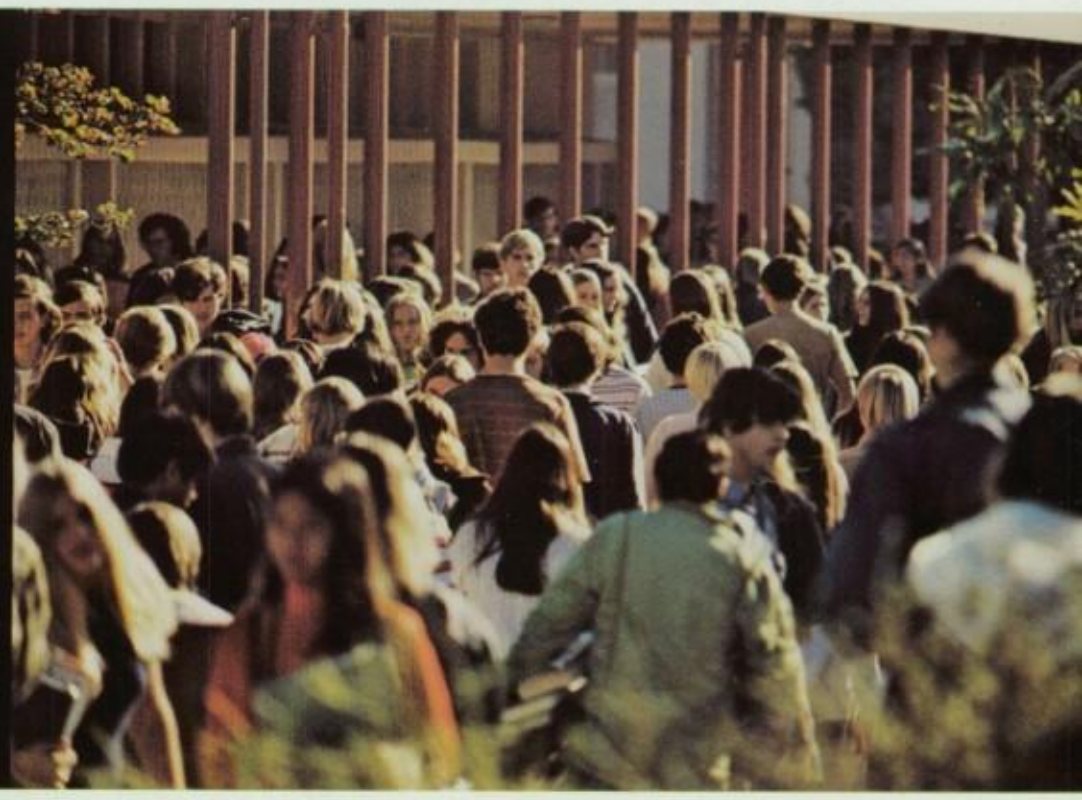
Memories of a world-wide war slowly faded.
The 1940's produced Auschwitz and mushroom clouds.
The 50's brought Korea,
The 60's Viet Nam, black arm bands, demonstrations.
Can 1973 bring peace?

JUST YESTERDAY...

Model T's rumbled down dirt roads.
Seas of fruit blossoms
reached out to distant hills.
Fresh air filled working lungs.
Progress churned simplicity into complexity.
A dirt road became Highway 101.
Cherry trees gave way
to bright lights and parking lots.
Smog clothed the hills.
Sunnyvale met 1973.







A little one room schoolhouse
exploded into a sprawling maze of buildings.
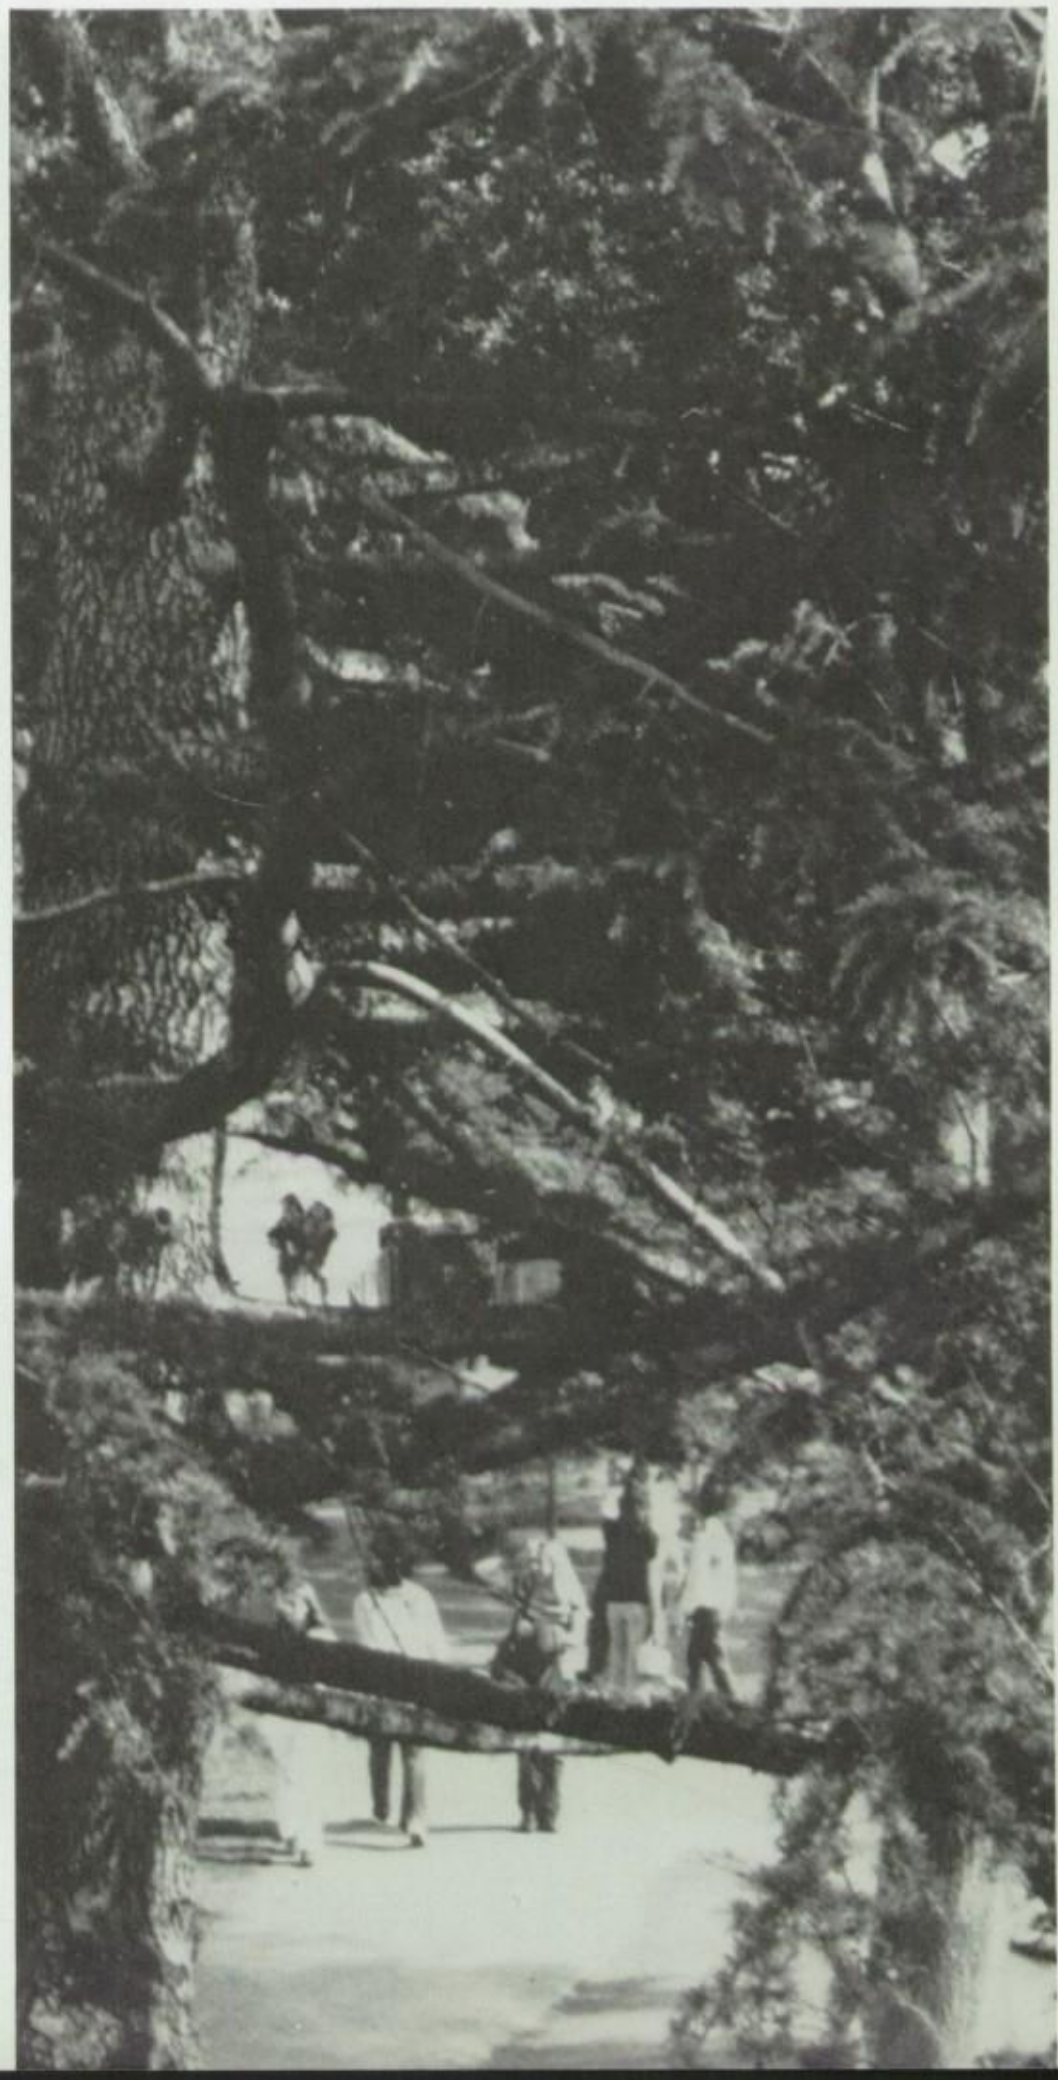
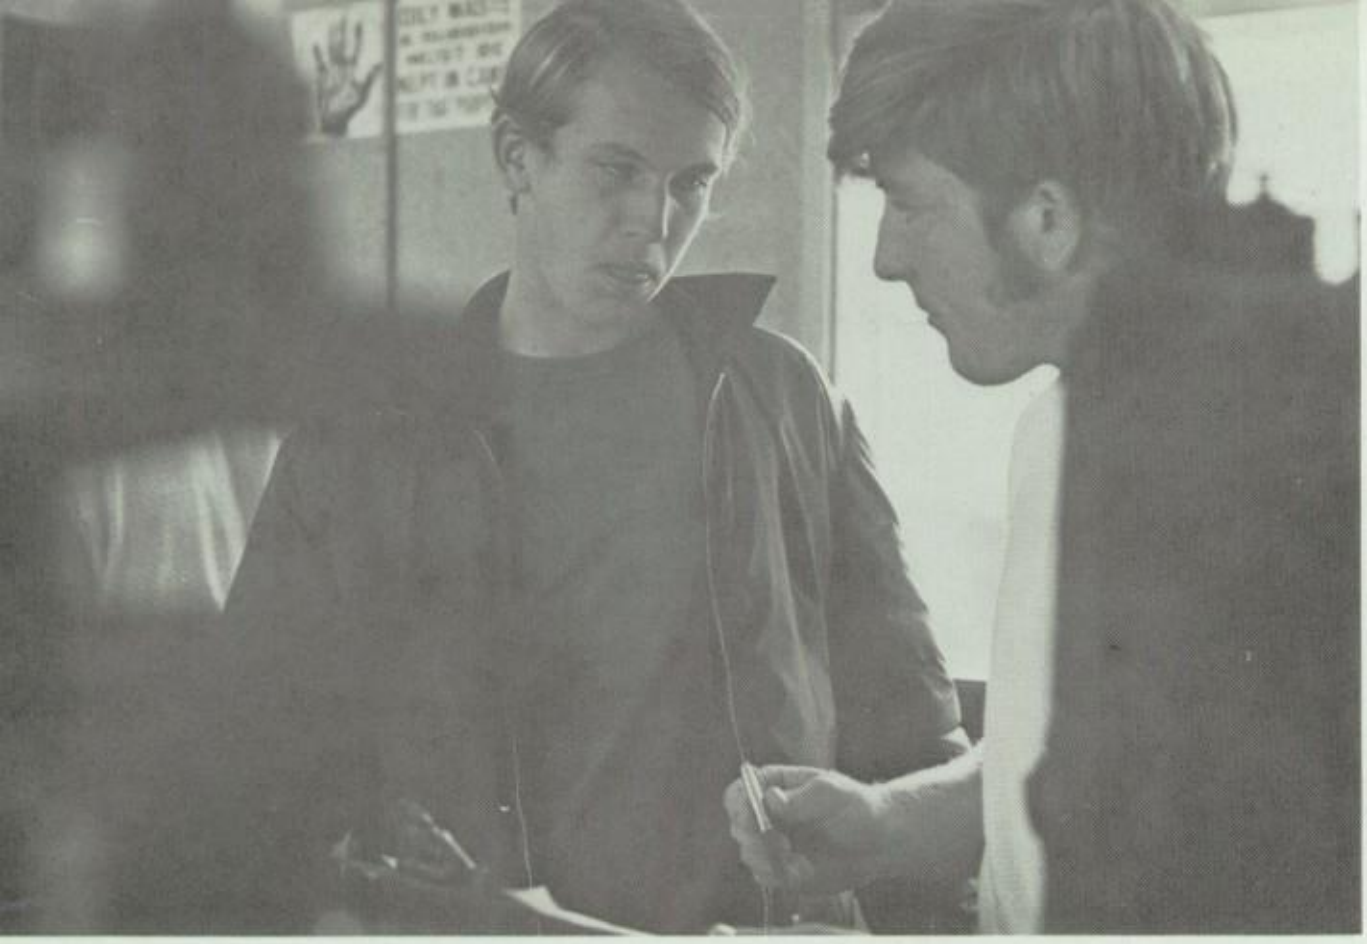
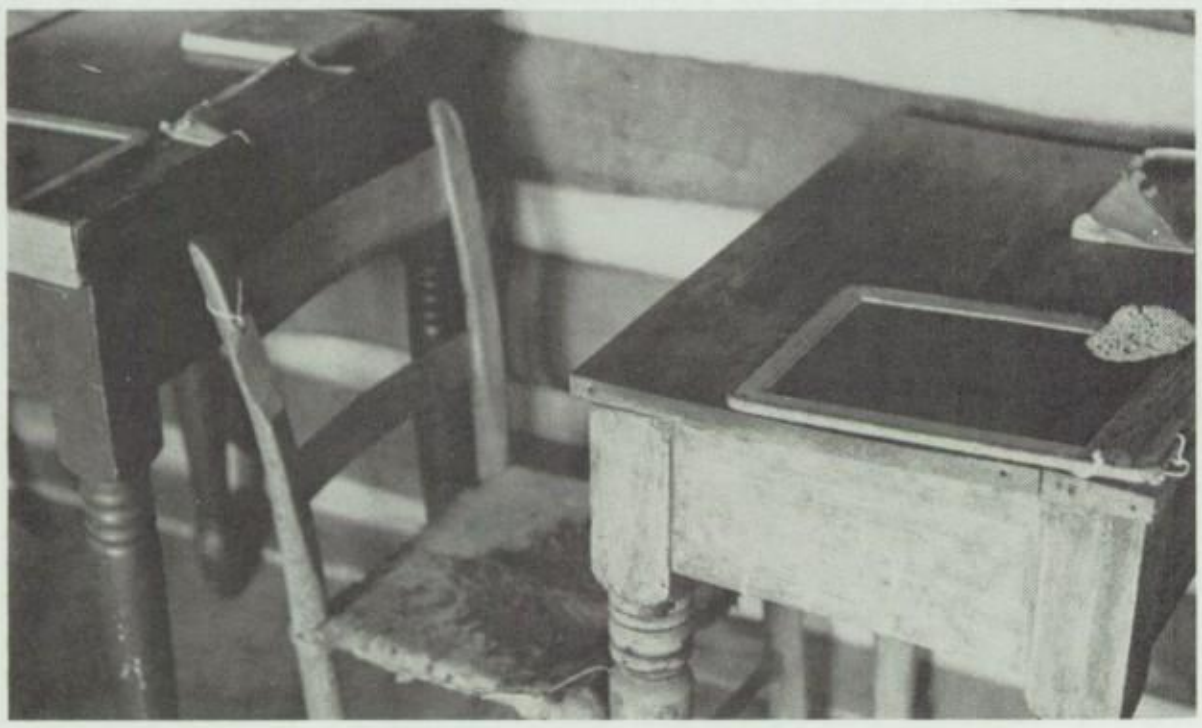
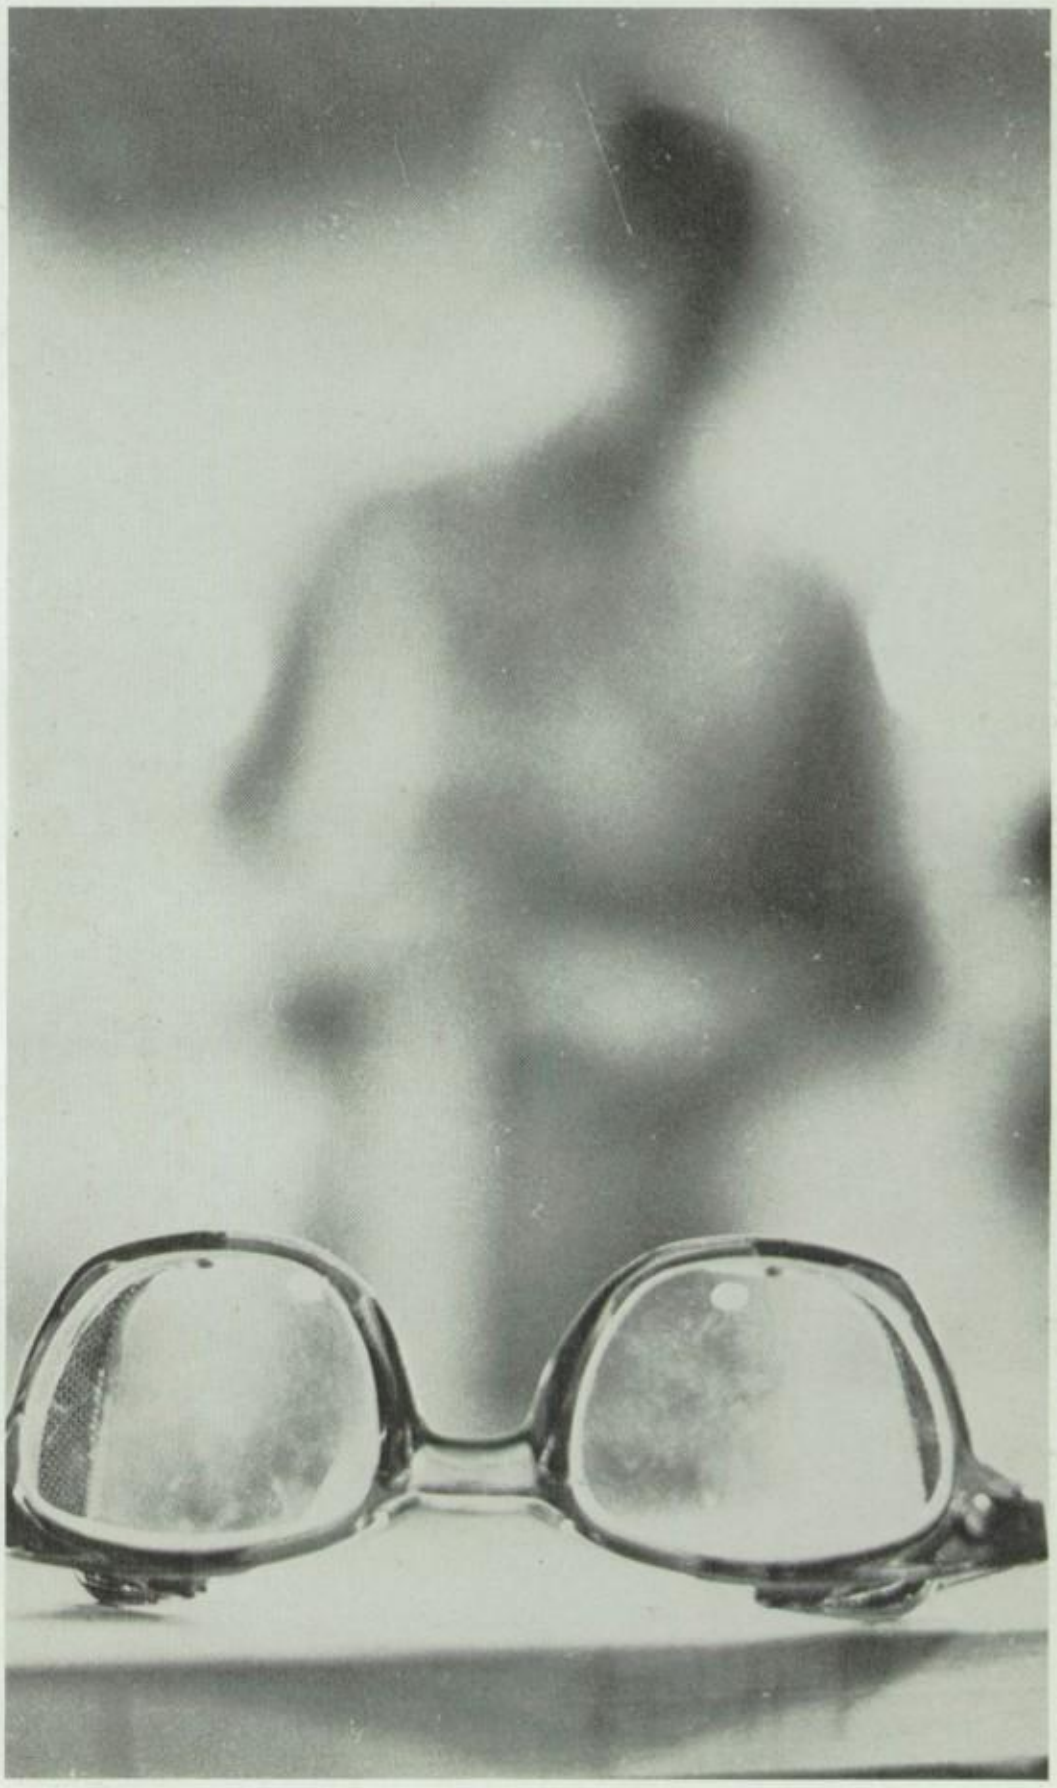
Wooden desks with inkwells replaced by metal seats and ballpoint pens.
Agricultural courses soon gave way to auto shop.
A girl's education began to reach far beyond her apron strings.
Years remodeled Fremont









Graduation -- quiet contemplation.
Joy tinged with anxiety.
1923, the first class of eight graduates.
Our golden anniversary--tassels for 581.
Feelings remain constant-- delight, relief, apprehension.

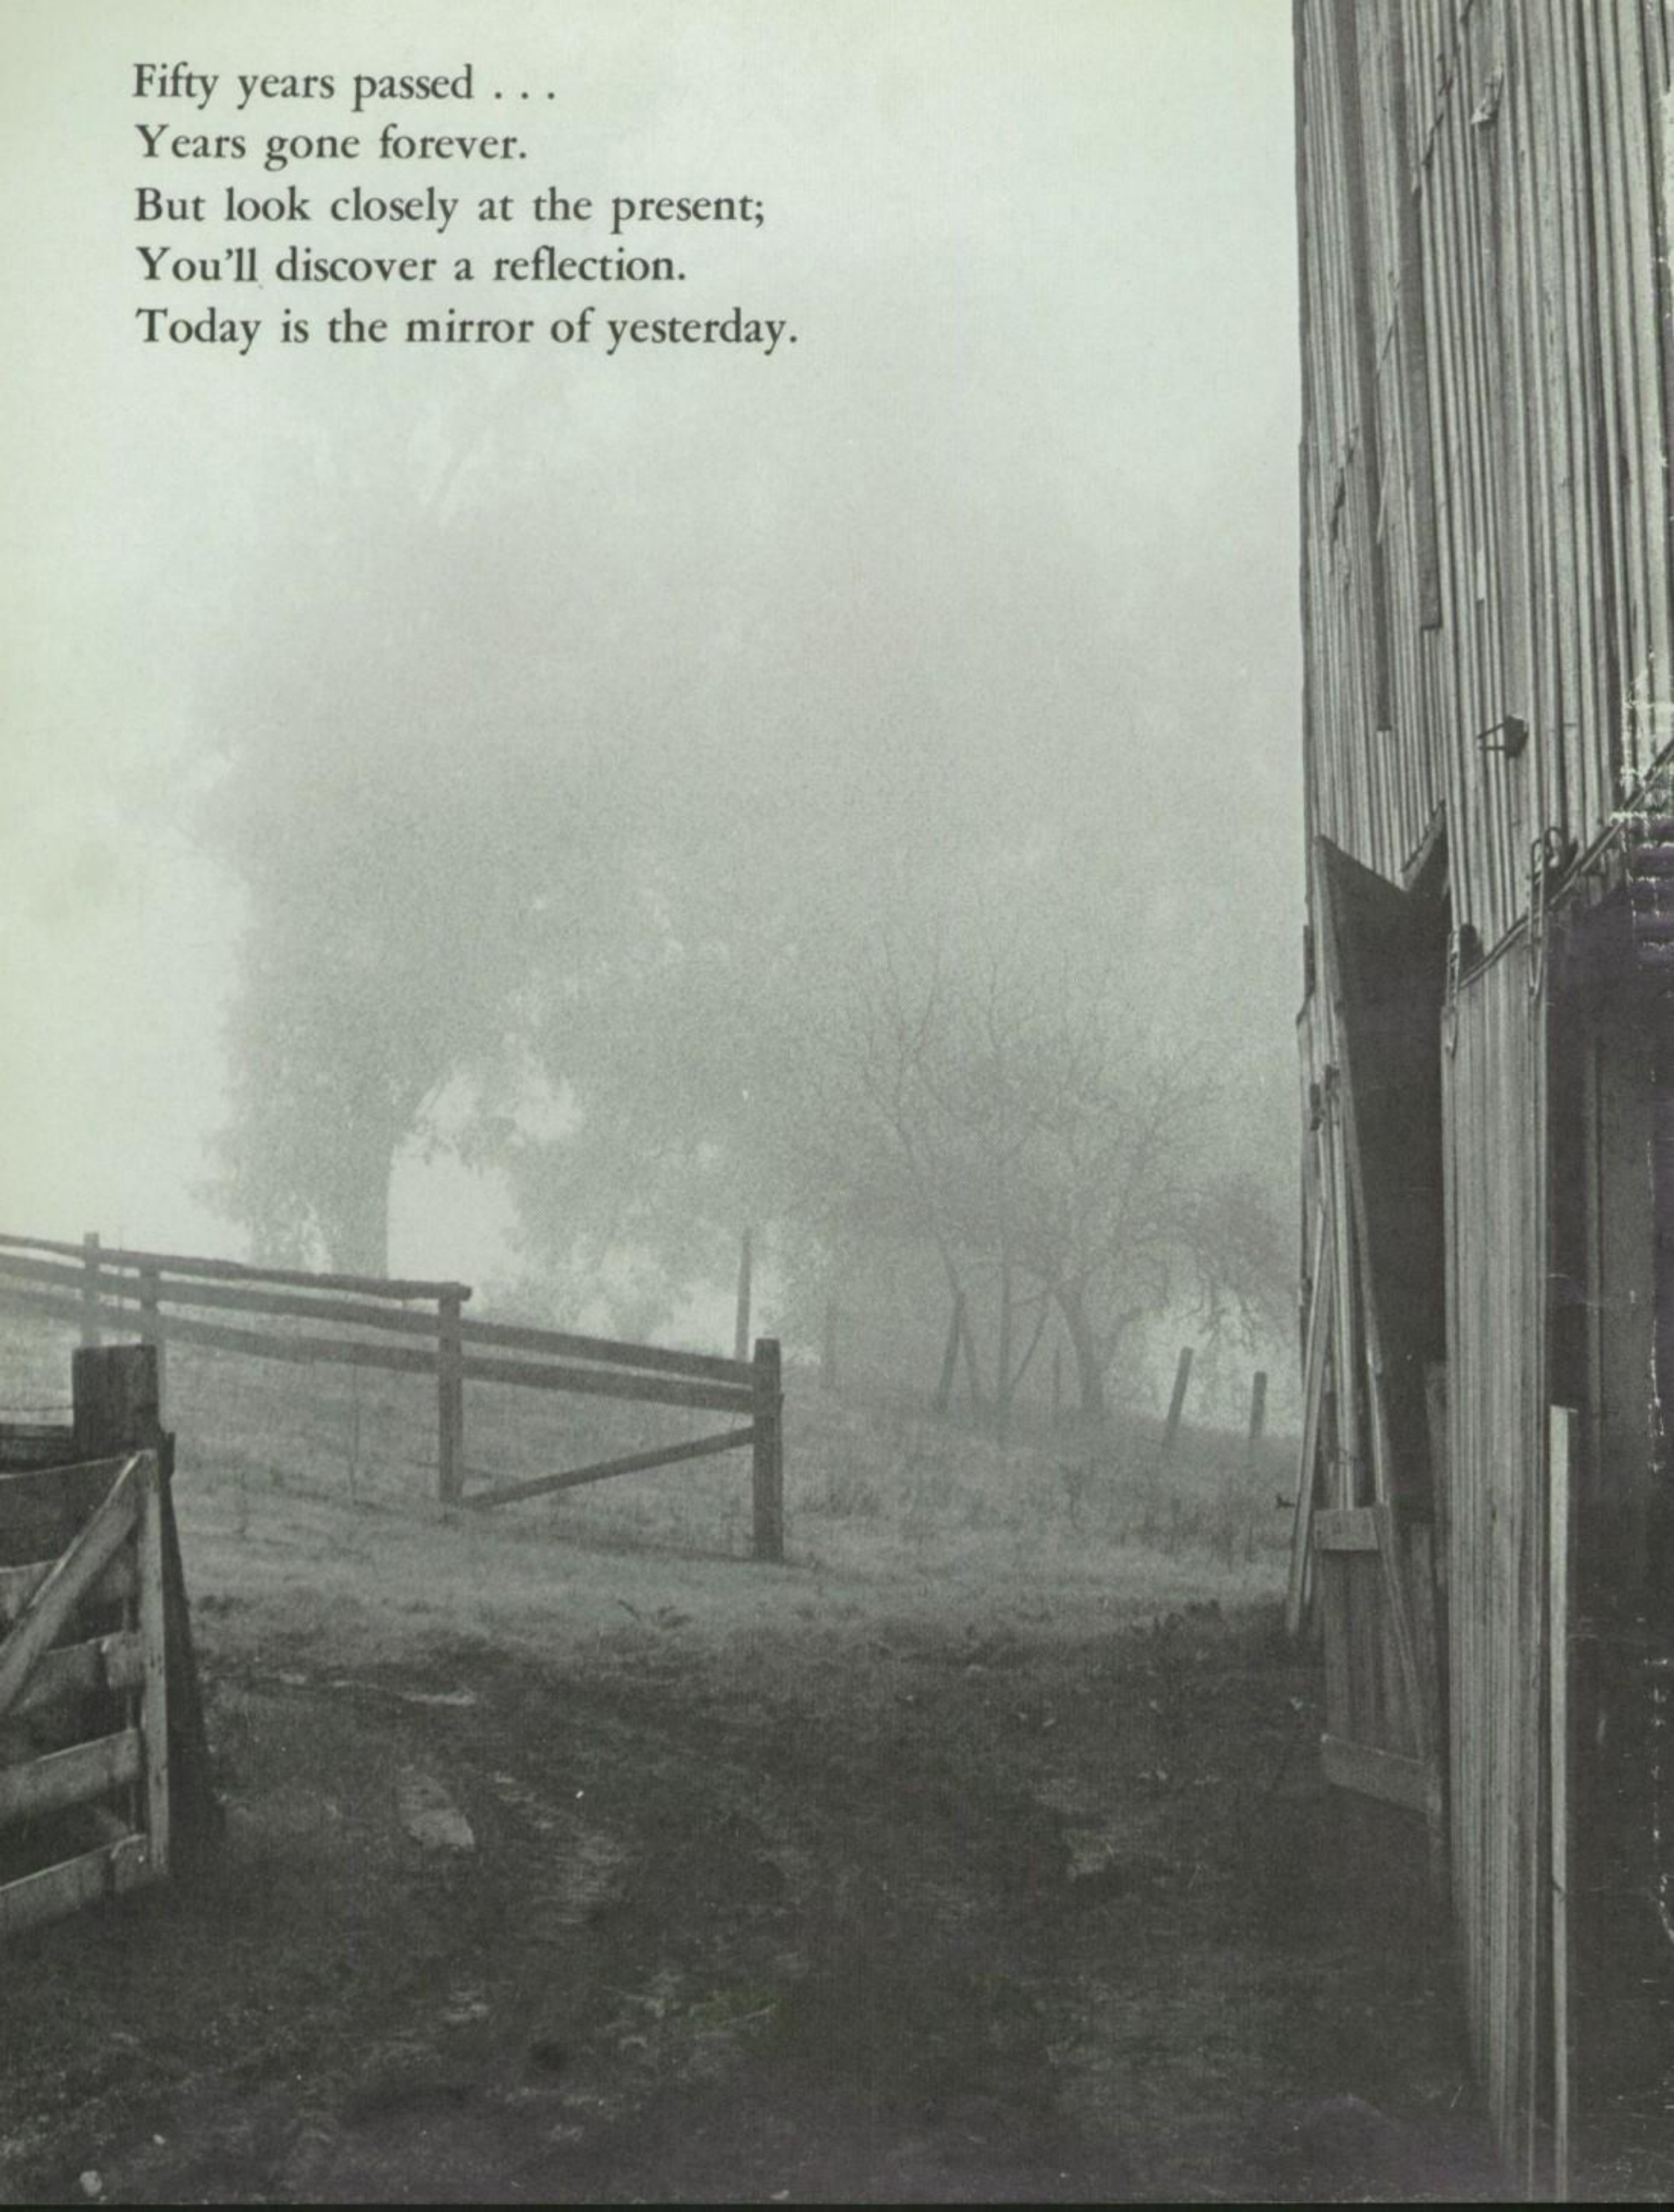
Fifty years passed . . .
Years gone forever.
But look closely at the present;
You'll discover a reflection.
Today is the mirror of yesterday.



During this 50th year of Fremont, the staff chose to dedicate the Pathfinder to someone who represents the devotion and perseverance that encompassed those many years. It was not an easy decision. Numerous names were considered—many fine representatives of those years. But one name stood out above all others—one man who best represents the changes that have enveloped 50 years of growth: Mr. Ralph Kling.

Principal since January 1965, Mr. Kling has been instrumental in initiating reforms in the traditional high school structure. The flexibility of mill scheduling and the modular system has given our students the freedom to plan their own time and learn the responsibility involved. The introduction of numerous elective courses perhaps best represents the trend away from the basic three 'R's. As principal, Mr. Kling has been the guiding influence during a period of spectacular growth, as the student body leaped from just 1800 in 1963 to over 2500 in 1973. Under his supervision, Fremont expanded and met the challenge of this new and continuing flood of students.

Fremont has been molded by 50 years of growth. Mr. Ralph Kling has seen and created much of the growth of those years. He has played a large role in implementing the changes in Fremont that most reflect the changes of a half century.

ACTIVITIES - Homecoming presents

Floats, 9th module rallies, and rainy days marked Homecoming week. Seniors demonstrated their spirit when for the third time in four years they captured the Spirit Trophy. However, juniors proved tough competition during the interclass rally as girls revived the 1950's dressed in midi skirts and saddle shoes.

The week's activities climaxed during the Friday night football game against Monta Vista. Raindrops as well as tears were shed during a sudden halftime cloudburst, with the crowning of Queen Marilyn Adams. The week drew to a close with the Homecoming Dance, "Saturday Night at the Movies."

Annie lassos, ties down her guy in girls' gym

The spirit of Li'l Abner invaded Fremont at the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, "Annie Get Your Guy." Madness provided the background tunes for this "jivin" event, while the title of Mr. Irresistable, alias Walter Royston, was awarded. Frayed jeans to frilly dresses were seen, but most original dress went to Guy Frank and Sue Piccardo.

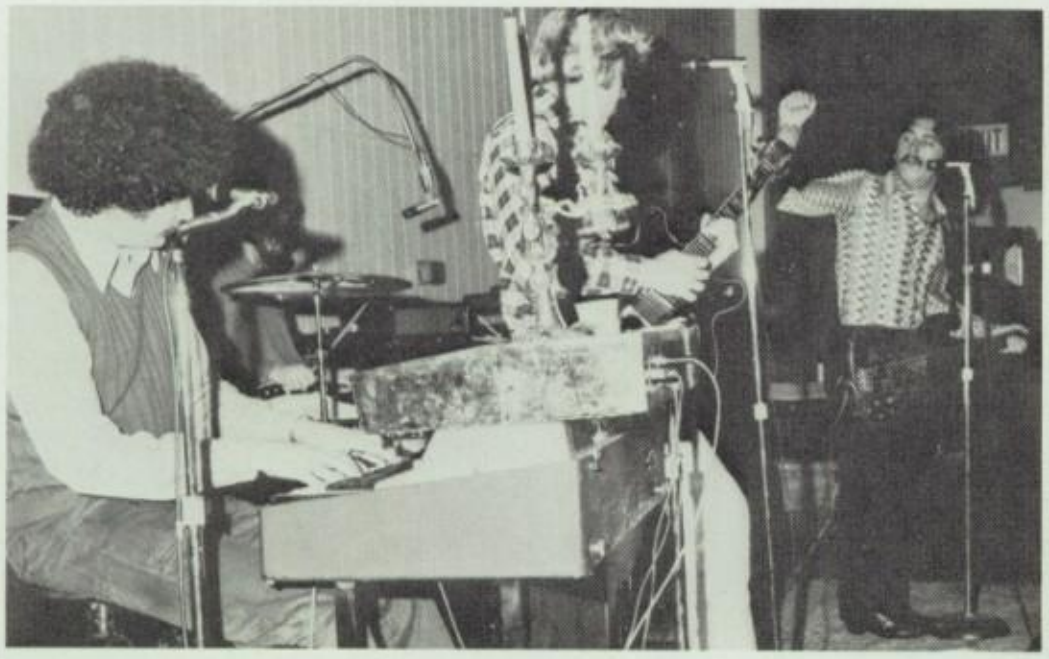
Kris Kringle brings Yule tidings to all



Santa Claus came to town in December and managed to take a moment out of his busy schedule to stop in at the annual Christmas Ball, "Jingle Bell Rock." Unfortunately for him, but fortunately for the sponsors of the dance, Santa was forced to leave his reindeer out in the cold because of the capacity crowd that attended.

Once again Cupid drew back his arrow and released joyful laughter and love at the Sweetheart Dance. For the second consecutive year Natural Gas created rhythmic music for the dancers. The decor of red and white Valentines and heart shaped cookies made the dance. "Me and My Arrow."

Crooners join musicians in pops concert

Fremont presented the Pops Concert in February this year. The A and B Bands along with the Women's SMENS, Boy's Chorus, and SMMXENS performed. The talented groups were directed by Mr. Gordon Murphy, Mr. Russell Cummings, and Mrs. Jan Cummings. The winter-time program was well received by the audience. Many district personnel and parents of performers attended the affair. Fremont's active staff and clubs helped produce the successful program.

Ami, amigo, freund - international friends

This year we have had the great pleasure of going to Fremont High School, sharing it with you.

We found the school different but nice. All the teachers have been so helpful and understanding. Among other things the French boy Jean-Luc, and Mans from Sweden liked watching the girls, and football played by the fine team of Fremont. Danish Susanne and Norwegian Kirsten liked the handsome American boys, although they are different than boys in Scandinavia. Jussi, the Finnish guy,liked studying languages, which were taught excellently.

We will really remember this year forever.

Peer Counseling first aim of ASB

As the student body aimed for recognition of its changing and maturing ideals, the General Assembly voiced its concern for the improvement of the Associated Student's finances, activities and involvement in the student community. Perhaps the most important topic discussed during Council was balancing the budget, as the assembly and chairmen attempted to work together to solve finance problems. With respect for ever-increasing needs of its student body, the General Assembly began plans for the Peer Counseling program, a newly devised program, where students are trained to help other students with personal and school problems.

Today is our future

FBLA, Fremont's business service club, was very active this year. They used their skills learned in class to earn money for the club. They helped out in such places as the Chamber of Commerce at Christmas time.

Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) this year entered local, state and National contests in distribution and merchandising.

Computer Club explored the science of computers. Mrs. Roberts heads this afternoon club. Members run their own programs through the school computer.

Fremont's Bible Rap Club had a fine turnout of members this year. The weekly rap sessions were held on Wednesday afternoons.

Clubs ignite flow of interest

Ecology Club found time to enjoy a bit of nature inbetween their activities at the recycling center. They spent much of their time seeking new ways for the community's conservation to succeed.

The T.V. Guild widened its medium this year with the full imagination of its members. They have opened the field of broadcasting to many of Fremont's newcomer students.

Oceanology Club made plans for this year's oceanology trip to Baja. Among the fund raising activities was that of selling hot soup during the football games.

Service clubs devote time and effort to others

As a community service, Astras repainted the Alviso Day Care Center for underprivileged children. They also worked in the Sunnyvale Community Christmas Store.

Key Club began the year with the annual Homecoming Dance, a successful venture despite the rainy weekend. They had many dinner meetings to discuss upcoming events.

Interact contributed to the Kidney Foundation with candy sales profits. Ghosts and gobblins haunted an Interact Halloween Party for day care center children.

Cascaids' major fall project was the ever popular Sadie Hawkins Dance. Among the other activities they decorated the faculty room for Halloween. They also devoted much of their time to the area's children.

SPORTS & SPIRIT

Varsity battles through trying season

It was a frustrating year for the varsity football team. Although 24 seniors were on the team, inexperience due to the loss of much of last year's winning squad couldn't help but show. The team's only win came during a 3-day trip to Redding where they beat Central Valley, 12-10. Outstanding individual efforts came from Kim McGowan, all-league first team; Frank Tamura, Mark Stivers, and Bob Upton, all-league honorable mention.

JV, frosh see hope in disappointments

Victories weren't too numerous for the J.V. and Frosh football teams; however according to their coaches, the squads were determined. J.V. ended the season with a record of 4-3-2. Frosh weren't quite as successful as the J.V.; they ended with a 1-7-1 record. J.V. honors for all-league went to Gary Porter, offensive 1st team, Bruce Palmer defense, and John Crawford defense. Honorable mention were Steve Hanigan, Kyle Fujimoto, Jim Bradfield, Rich Kirkorian and Stan Kuhl. Frosh all-league went to Bill Perry, Steve Eheler and Dave Nichols.

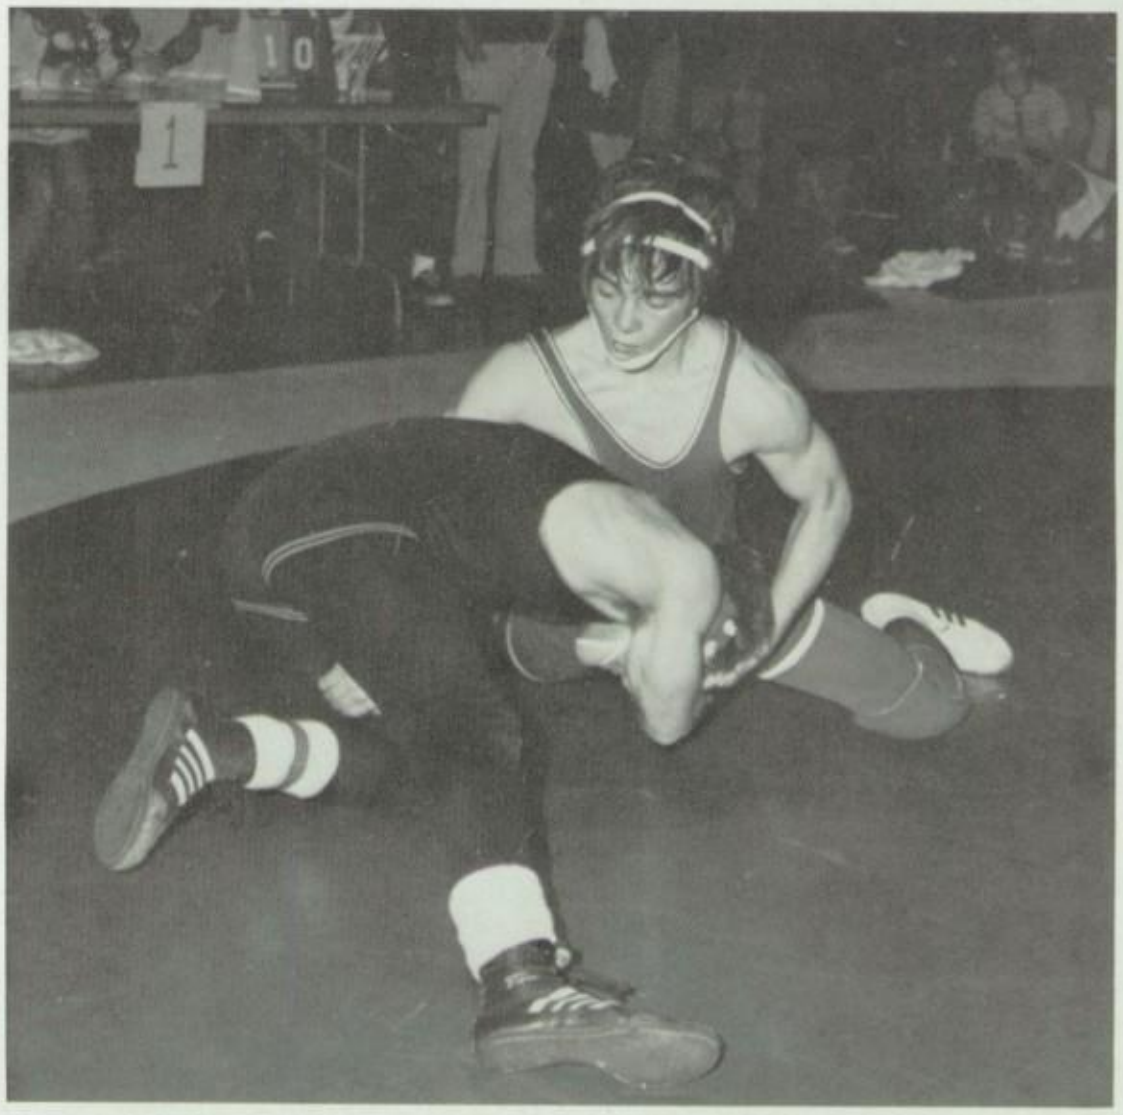
Grappling warriors struggle for championship

Fremont's wrestling teams had a remarkable season this year. The Freshmen team, undefeated, was victorious over Buchser, the National League Champions. They took first place in the SCVAL American League Division. The Junior Varsity wrestlers came in second in the SCVAL. J.V. league champions were Sam Doying at 115 lbs. and Ken Nakamoto at 194 lbs. The Varsity team received third place in the SCVAL. Varsity league champions were Don Lawson and Frank Tamura. It was a disappointment to all concerned when Mike Harr broke his ankle and couldn't go on to win the league championship.



J.V. Wrestlers are Clayton Ching, Joe Eto, Sam Doying, Kelly Wilson, Steve Rudeen, Dave Gollob, Mark Brown, Bob Kayne, Jeff Horwitz, John Tolomei, Perry Northouse, Kerri Wilson, Ken Nakamoto, and Kevin Nolley.

Desire, endurance key water polo efforts

It was a winning season for both Varsity and Frosh-Soph water polo squads. Varsity finished the season with an 11-8 record while the Frosh-Soph had a slightly higher winning percentage with a 14-4 record. Members of both teams received numerous honors. Senior Al Frazer, high team scorer, was chosen all-league first tean. Honorable mention was given to Al Lorentzen and Guy Frank. Kent Rodgers and Mark Lunsford made all-league first tean, Frosh-Soph.

Indian netmen toss their way to top

The Varsity Basketball team capped a super season by upsetting SCVAL champion Los Altos in The Shaughnessy Playoffs. In compiling a 22-5 season record, the Indians garnered the Live Oak and Sunnyvale Holiday Tournament titles and finished second in the SCVAL American Division. Seniors Mike Gregory, Gerry Olds, and Dave Coil were standouts, supported by Dennis Broderick, Steve Hoffman, Rick Armer and Lew Fish.

Dees emerge with season championship

The Fremont Dees captured the SCVAL league title with a fantastic 14-0 ledger. The Dees featured an explosive offense and a tenacious defense enroute to an unbeaten season. The Dees placed Don Lawson and Renę Retuta on the first team all-league while Doug Lee was voted MVP of the league. The Cees posted a dismal 7-7 log. The Cees played a controlled type of offense and relied mainly on playing a tough defense. Chip Wheatly took all-league honors. The Frosh was led by Ron Pritchard and scored a 9-15 record. The Frosh ended their league in second place.

Give 'em the axe, give 'em the axe

"We're number one" echoed through Spartan Stadium when for the fifth consecutive year Fremont High School captured the Spirit Bell at the football Jamboree. During the summer, Cheerleaders and Song Girls traveled to the University of Santa Cruz for a week to exchange knowledge with girls from 55 other schools. While there, the Varsity Cheerleaders netted the Coca-Cola award for the best cheerleading squad and the Song Girls received the award for the most spirited.

Varsity Cheerleaders are Jeri Poston, Kim Newman, Renee Rachfal, Patty Robinson, Marilyn Adams-Head, and Kathy Loss.

Varsity baseball swings into season

Grunts and groans on the practice field signified the beginning of baseball season, as weary athletes stretched muscles they had forgotten during the long winter. With the assistance of six returnees to the squad, and led by Coach Elliot, the Varsity baseball team prepared to better last season's record of 8-9.

Girls' sports as active as guys'

This year Fremont's Girls Athletic League competed with other girls and schools in swimming, tennis, hockey, basketball, gymnastics, volleyball, badminton, track and softball.

Basketball is perhaps the most popular spectator sport of the G.A.L., with Powder Puff games drawing large after school crowds.

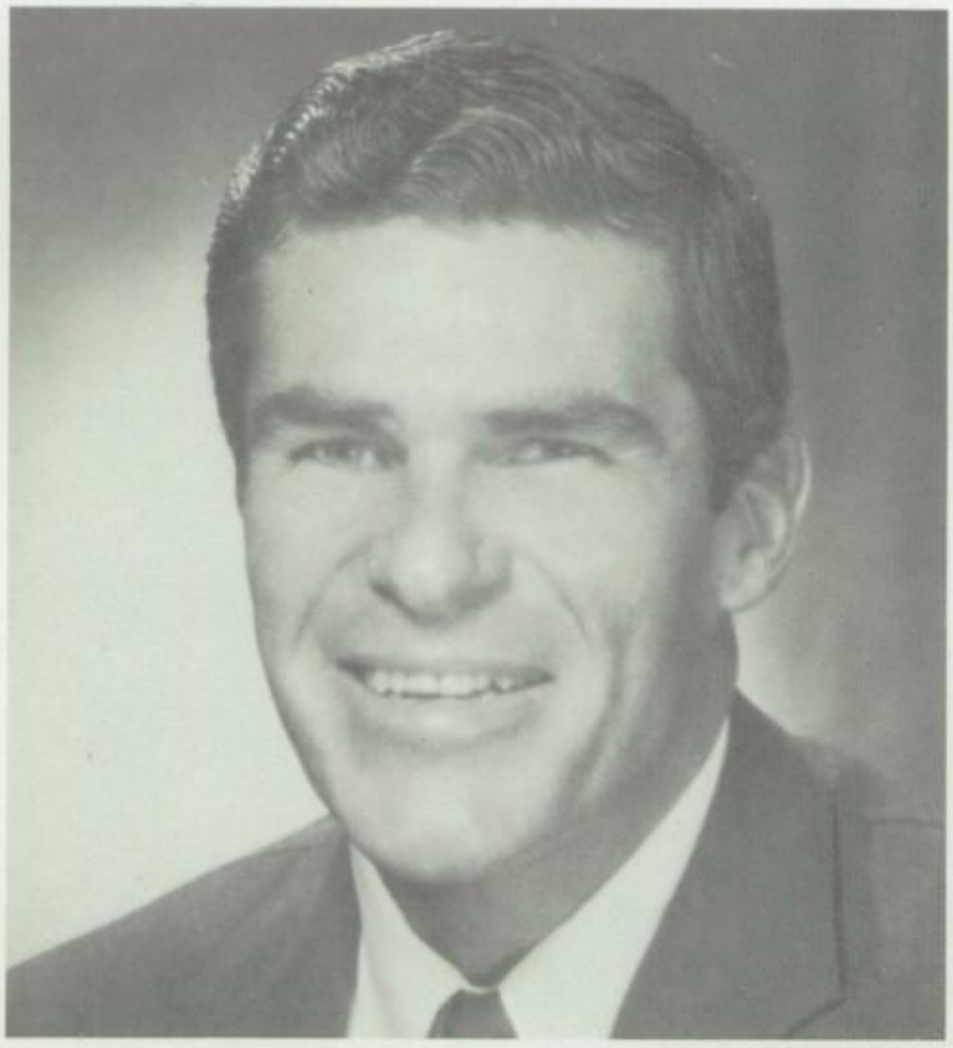
Shades of time . . .



Not long ago my children dug up my high school yearbook and howled at their ancient father and his weird looking classmates. The same experience will happen to you. I then reminisced with my children about the adventures, dreams, and disappointments that the pages illustrated. I hope that when you open this yearbook with your children you will be reminded of the many people at Fremont High School who worked with you to make learning a worthwhile and exciting adventure.

Wake up to your mind . . .

Nearly all students knew that two and two was equal to four—that is until they reached trigonometry or math analysis, where unsuspecting innocents discovered there was more to math than addition and subtraction. The department offered serious students an extensive program, with classes ranging up to calculus, and less math-minded students had the opportunity to take more elementary courses such as Math I.

1492, 1860, 1941—unforgettable dates in history. But names and dates weren't the whole story, as history students soon discovered. Social Studies classes remembered the dates but concentrated on the ramifications of those dates and the events they were caused by or caused. Knowing these precedents enabled students to apply their knowledge in Senior government or current issues classes as they tried to analyze the future in view of the past.

Mastering sentence construction may have been boring for Basic Language students, but they soon discovered it was a necessary foundation for their future work in more advanced English classes. Departmental courses encompassed nearly every aspect of written and verbal communication from Drama to Debate. Film allowed expression through a media new to most students. Mass Media exposed the psychology of the news media. English Advanced Placement gave Seniors the opportunity to try to obtain advanced college credit for high school work. Perhaps indicative of the influence of the department is the revelation that over 100% of the student body enrolled in an English class.

The Music Dept. and Driver's Training classes strangely enough have something in common. They are both finding new roads to explore. Countless hours found the beautiful sounds of Fremont's many musical presentations. Students' talents were demonstrated in everything from pep band to the annual school musical. After learning safe driving techniques, students felt fully qualified to enter the bumper-to-bumper world of Sunnyvale's freeways.

The sounds of blow torches, power saws, and rapping mufflers vibrated throughout the Industrial Arts Department as both boys and girls began to master the fundamentals of the mechanical world or perfect the skills they already possessed.

Throughout the school year the tantalizing aroma of the Home Economics classes filled the hallways. Both exotic and practical items were produced in general sewing and creative stitchery classes.

Art students explored their hidden talents through such things as pin hole cameras, thrown clay pots, and painted canvases.

The Foreign Language Department offered students a better understanding of people of the world through bi-lingual forms of communication. Pinatas, lederhausen, and French cuisine found their way into Fremont classrooms. Students explored not only a country's language but its culture as well. Spanish students had the opportunity to participate in an exchange program to Mexico, while French students journeyed to San Francisco. The International Dinner held in November gave all students the chance to taste the flavorful food of many countries.

The Physical Education Department offered students the thrill of athletic competition as well the opportunity to maintain healthy bodies through such activities as judo, senior recreation and body improvement.

Helpful suggestions and much patience by the instructors and coaches encouraged students to put forth their spirited best.

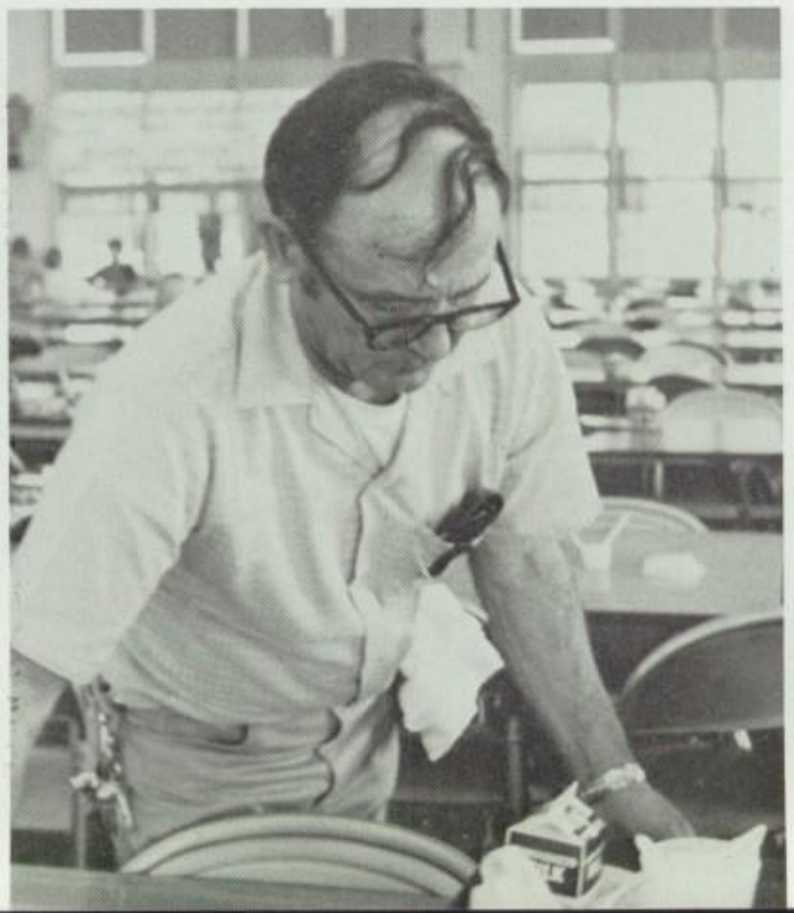
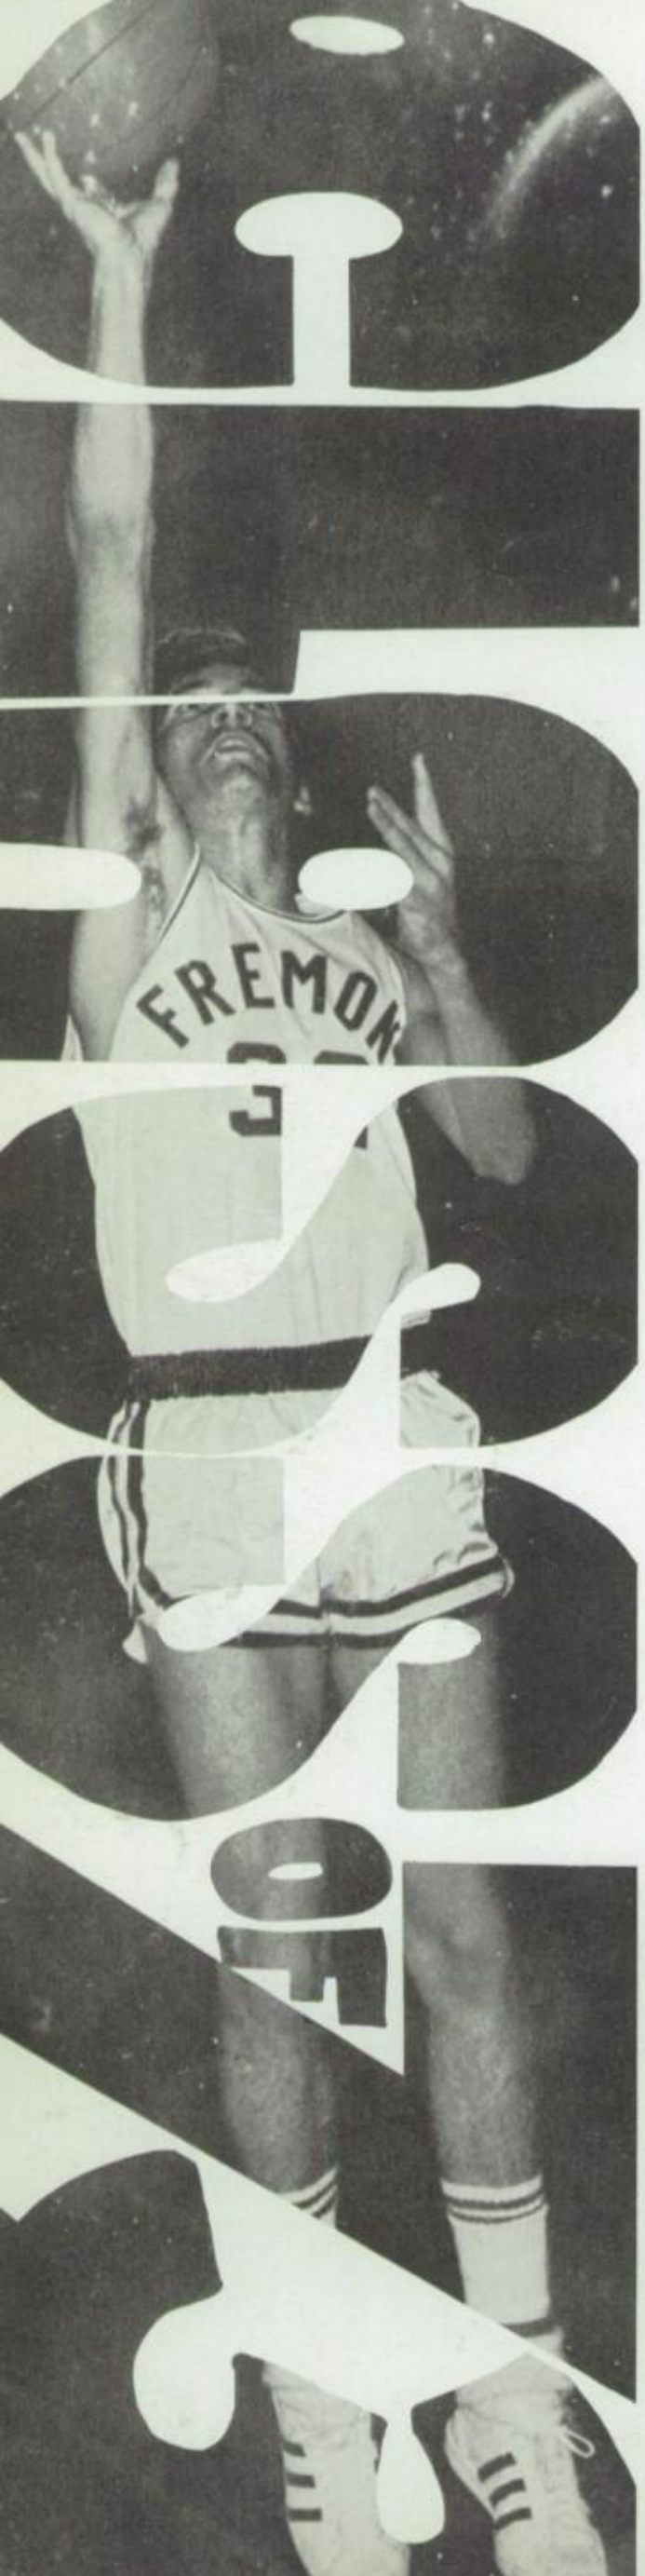
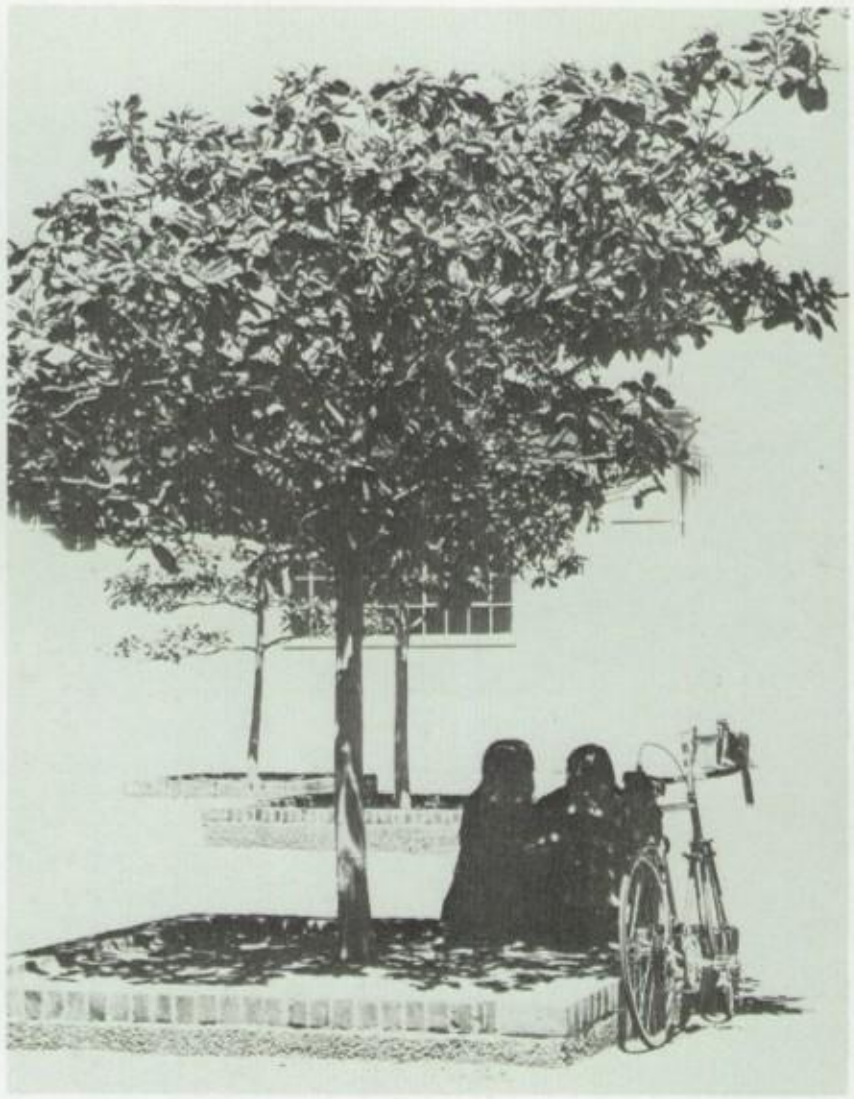
The Cafeteria and Custodial staff spent a busy year serving the needs of Fremont students. Custodians performed a variety of tasks, from laying football turf on Diesner Field to polishing the floor of the Wigwam. The cafeteria offered everything from hot marties to 50-50's during the hectic lunch hour.



PEOPLE





Worry about the future engulfed the Class of 1973 as they achieved the rank of Seniors, but even this apprehension couldn't keep the class from a rousing final high school year. Beginning the year, the class captured the title of most spirited class for the third time in four years during pre-Homecoming competition. In mid-winter, Seniors sold chocolate candy bars to finance the Senior Ball, held at the Royal Coach Inn in San Mateo in early June. But perhaps the most rewarding project the class tackled was sponsorship of a small child in Mexico.

Peace is the fairest form of happiness

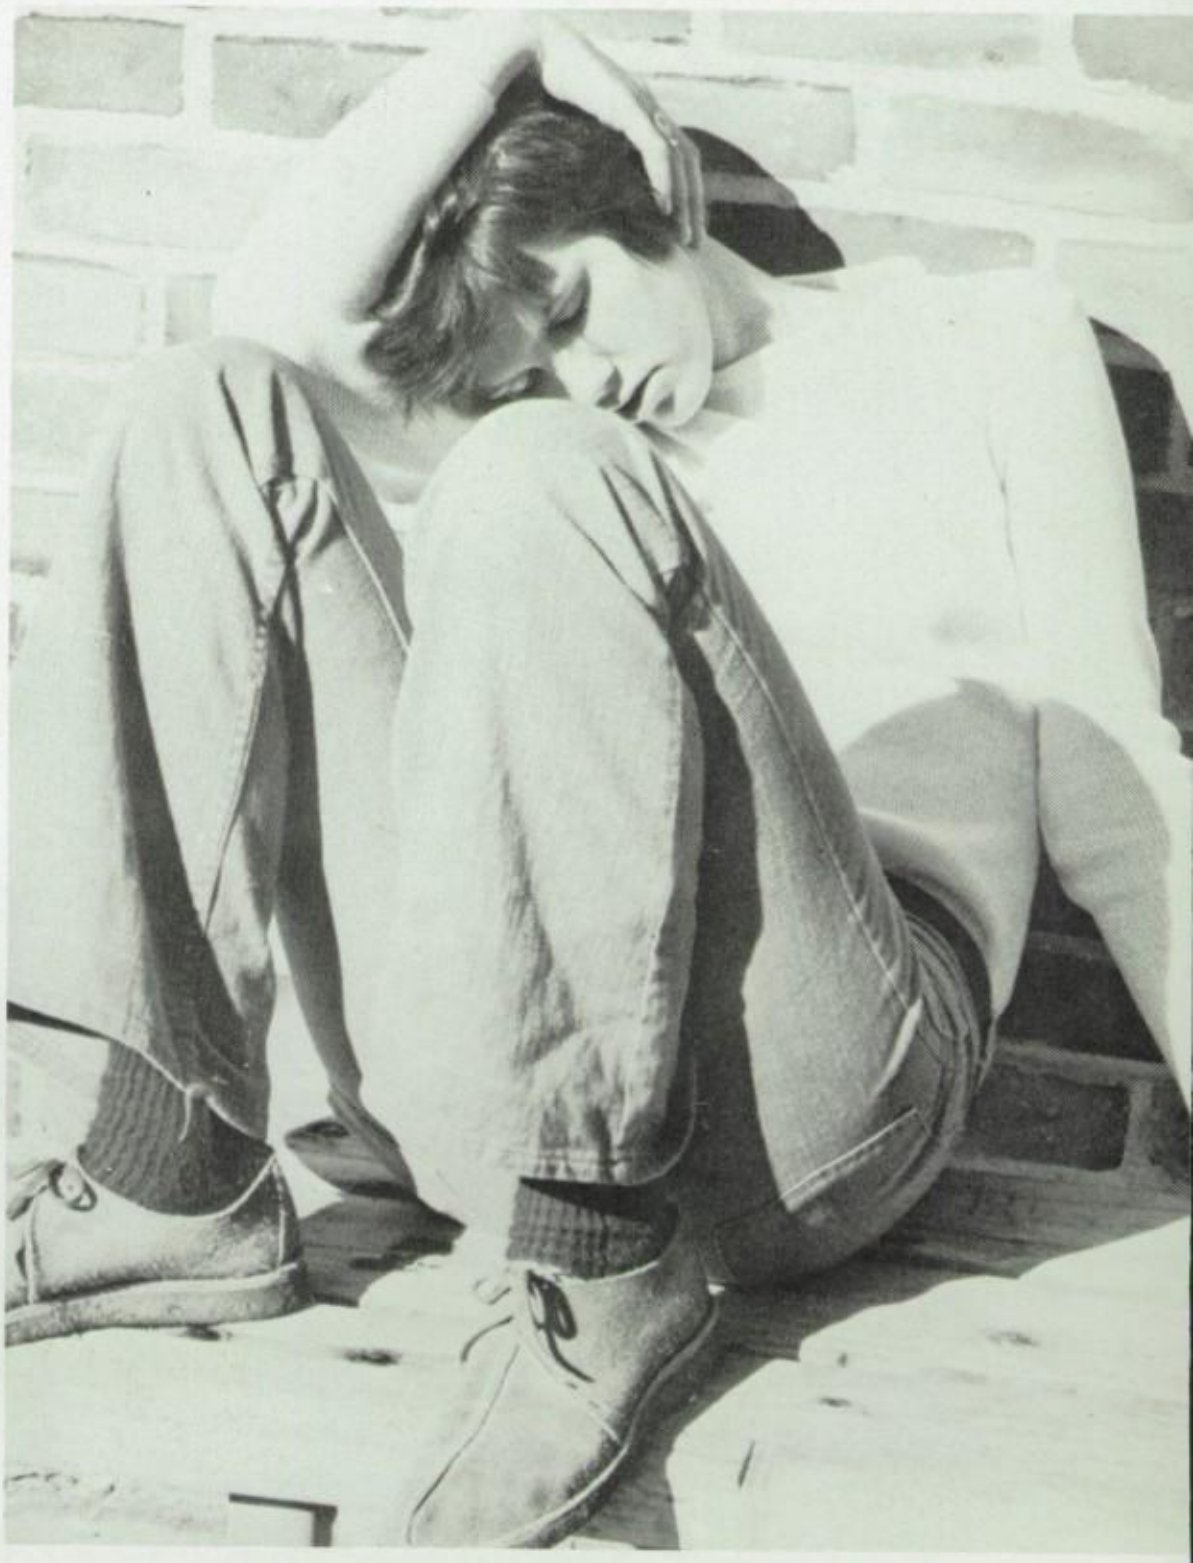
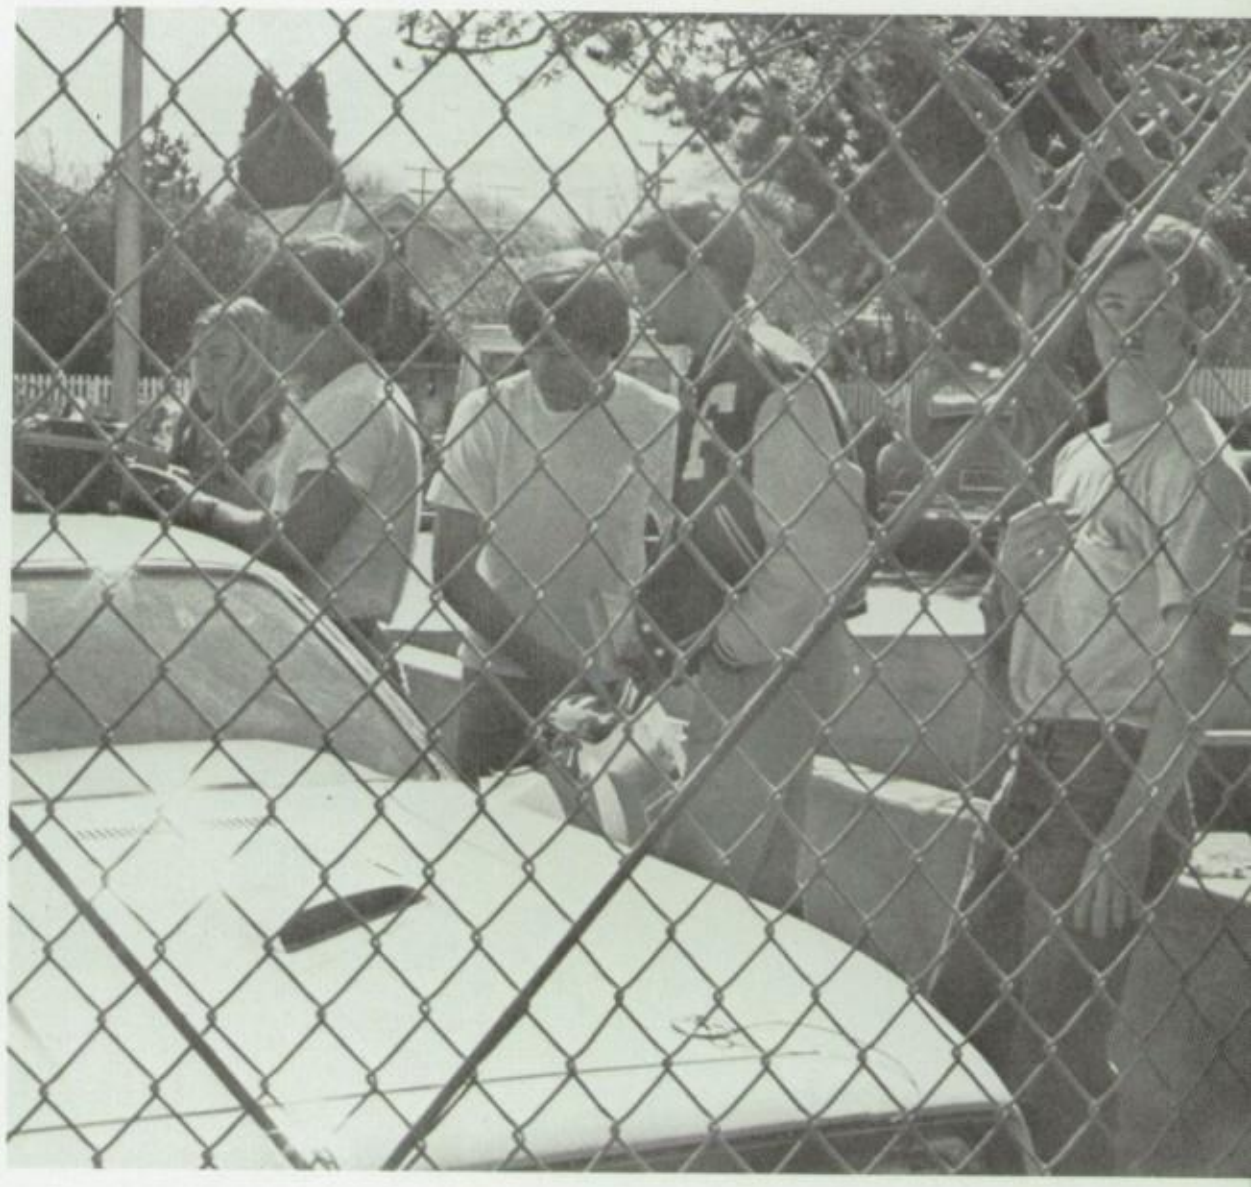
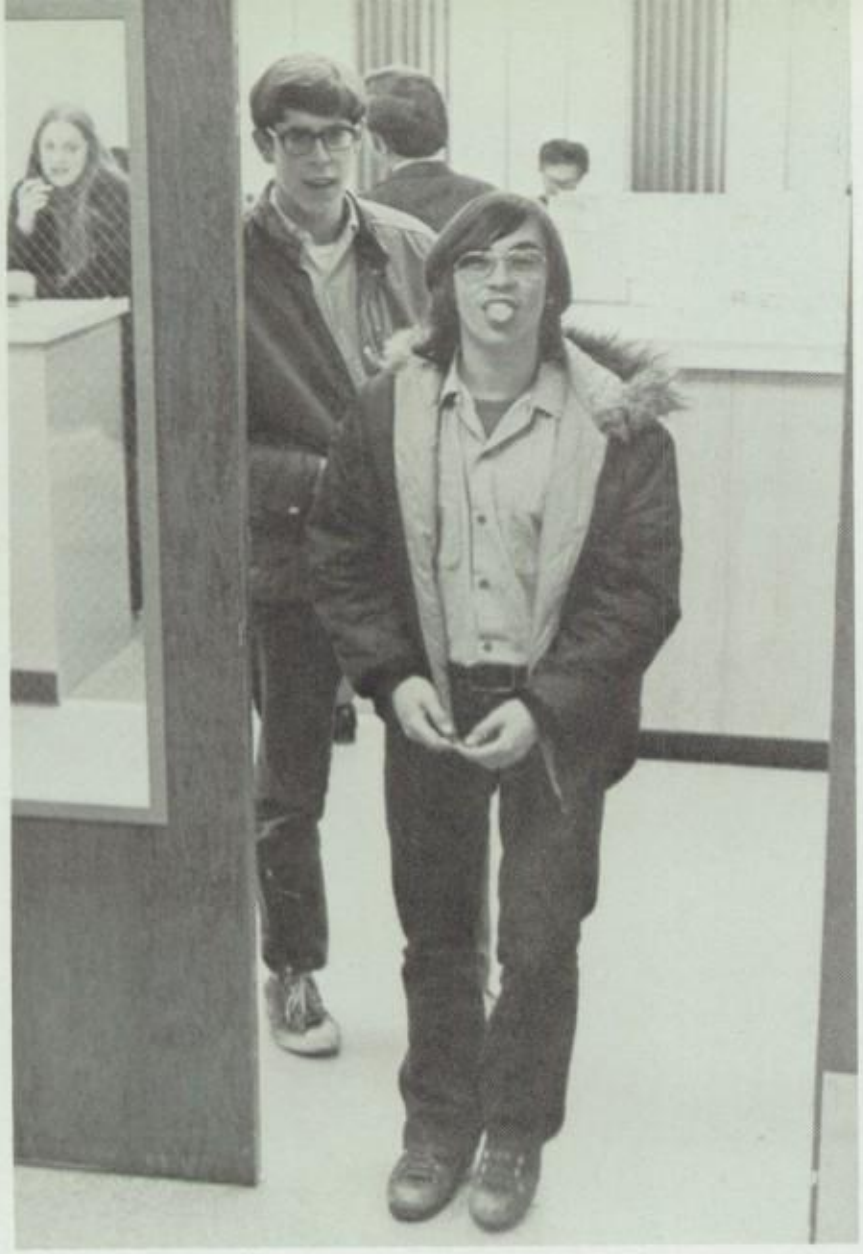
PEOPLE - living life as it comes,



each day a new discovery.

Life is just what you make it





Life is just what you want it to be

A "cool" ice cream feast in the cafeteria was followed by a dance early in the year as the Class of 1974 celebrated becoming upperclassmen. Class members began to look around and feel a new feeling of identity that comes only with becoming an upperclassman. However, along with the pride came new responsibilities. Looking forward to the Junior Prom, the class, led by President Mindy Decker, set about on fund-raising activities, including a candy sale, soap sale, and sponsorship of the all school dance, "Stairway to Heaven."

All in all the year was one in which the Junior class began to look forward and see their high school days coming into their last phase.

Since they no longer had to suffer the pain of being the youngest class in Fremont, the Class of 1975 was able to enter the year with confident assurance. Women's Liberation seemed to prevail when the class chose officers, and all nine offices were filled with girls. Sophomore Linda Enos was chosen to serve as class president. Sophomores made their mark in many all-school activities, ranging from Thespians to athletics. Jack Herrera was chosen to portray the lead in the fall Senior Play, and several students were selected to participate in the foreign exchange program.

Perhaps the biggest project for the class was an all school dance sponsored by the sophomores in the fall, as students began to attempt to fill their treasury with money for future projects.

Nobody told the Freshmen it was going to be easy, and blank stares and looks of hopelessness on the faces of many of them indicated that the transition from junior high to high school was not simple. Their biggest challenge came in sorting out the science rooms from the English wings, and acquainting themselves with the maze of buildings on campus. Freshmen orientation, held several days before the beginning of school, did help, however, and the Class of 1976 managed to adjust.

The Frosh Jolly Up, sponsored annually by the ASB, helped to acquaint class members from different junior highs. Soon after, the class held elections for officers, and John Letaw was chosen president. Freshmen made their presence visible on campus with their first activity of the year—selling '76 buttons. In the spring, the class organized a day-long bowling party.

ADVISOR
Mr. Tim Wilson

We hope that by employing photographs and copy we have recorded many of the accomplishments and feelings of the Fremont Student Body. It's hard work but the staff and the school make it move along smoothly.

Our thanks to our advisor, Mr. Tim Wilson, Mrs. Brannan for the proofreading and Mr. Darrell Dodds of Pischel Yearbooks.
